Camp Delhi; the 1st January, 1903.

RESOLUTION.

THE Governor General in Council has been pleased to issue orders as follows for the release, as an act of clemency and grace, of a certain number of prisoners, both criminal and civil, and the remission of a portion of the sentences of other prisoners in all the Jails throughout British India, and in the Penal Settlement of Port Blair, on the auspicious occasion of the Coronation of the King-Emperor.

2. Local Governments and Administrations have been desired to release on this day 10 per cent. of all the convicts under sentence, provided that their conduct during imprisonment has been good and that their release is not likely to give rise to a revival of blood feuds or professional crime. Under these orders 9,123 offenders will be released. Special consideration has been given to the question of the release of Burmans convicted of dakaiti and similar offences during the disturbances which followed the annexation of Upper Burma and the release of 127 such convicts has been decided on. Apart from the foregoing concession, His Excellency in Council has, as additional measures of clemency and grace, directed the release (1) of 1,238 female convicts whose offences were not of a serious nature; (2) of 4,909 persons under sentence of one month's imprisonment or less who have on this day worked out half their sentence; and (3) of 276 persons under sentence of not more than six months' imprisonment, whose offences were more or less attributable to conditions of scarcity. The Governor General in Council has also directed the absolute release of 352 male and female convicts in the Andamans, and the conditional release of 31 convicts under sentence for dakaiti. The total number of convicts of all classes at Port Blair who will be released in connection with the celebration of the Coronation of the King-Emperor will thus be nearly 400.

3. The Governor General in Council has also been pleased to extend a measure of grace and clemency to convicts in Indian Jails who in the interests of society cannot now be released, by directing that they be granted remissions of their punishments, graduated according to the character of the sentence in each case, which may extend to a month's remission for each year of imprisonment passed in Jail. His Excellency in Council has further sanctioned, in the case of all well-behaved convicts in the Penal Settlement of Port Blair, certain concessions which will mitigate the severity of their sentences and will improve their prospects of earning further privileges by continued good behaviour.

4. The Governor General in Council has been pleased to order the release of all persons confined in prison in execution of decrees of the Civil Courts whose debts do not exceed the sum of R100, provided that they are poor and not fraudulent ; and the payment by Government of the debt or debts for which they are detained. One hundred and thirty-two civil prisoners will accordingly be discharged, and their debts aggregating R8,590 will be paid by Government.

5. The total number of prisoners who will to-day be released from British Jails including the Andamans is 16,188.

THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF ASSAM—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

DECLARATION.

Shillong, the 19th December, 1902.

No. 35.—Whereas it appears to the Chief Commissioner of Assam that land is required to be taken up by Government at the expense of Alinagar Tea Company, Limited, for a tram road from Ranir Bazar to Alinagar, Assam-Bengal Railway station (2¼ miles x 18 feet) in villages Madhabpur and Kumrákapán, pargana Bhanugach, sub-division South Sylhet, district Sylhet, it is hereby declared that, for the above purpose, a piece of land, measuring, more or less, 5 acres of standard measurement, is required within the aforesaid villages of Madhabpur and Kumrákapán.

The plan of the land may be seen at the office of the Sub-Divisional Officer, South Sylhet.

This declaration is made, under the provisions of section 6 of Act, I of 1894, to all whom it may concern.

Copy of agreement executed on the 4th September 1902, by the Alinagar Tea Company, Limited.

This agreement is executed under section 41 of the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894, on the fourth September, one thousand nine hundred and two, by the Alinagar Tea Company Limited, whose principal place of business is at London, and who are tea planters by profession.

Whereas we the said Alinagar Tea Company, Limited, carry on the business of tea planters in the part of the South Sylhet sub-division which is known as the Dhalai Valley. And whereas it is necessary that the land described in the schedule hereto annexed should be acquired under Chapter VII of the Land Acquisition Act, I of 1894, for the construction of a road useful to the public and for facilitating the communication between the Alinagar Railway station and the tea gardens in the said valley. And whereas it is necessary that we the said Company should enter into an agreement with the Secretary of State for India in Council as required by section 41 of the said Act.

Now it is hereby agreed and declared that we the said Alinagar Tea Company, Limited, agree and bind ourselves, our legal representatives, successors and assigns to the effect that we will pay to the said Secretary of State for India in Council all the costs that will be incurred in the acquisition of the said land, take a transfer of the land in question on the payment of the said costs, construct a road thereon within three years from the date on which possession is given to the Company, and maintain the same and keep it in proper repair and in proper condition for ordinary traffic. We do further agree and bind ourselves, our legal representatives, successors and assigns that the road to be constructed shall be open to the public for ordinary traffic (i.e., foot, horse or cart) but not for elephants, and the public will accordingly enjoy the said right thereon and no other.

Provided always that our failure to execute the work within the time limited by this agreement shall place the land to be acquired entirely at the disposal of Government which may execute the said work if it think proper or at its discretion retransfer the same to its original owners on the refund of the price or otherwise, and neither we nor our legal representatives, successors and assigns shall be entitled to prefer any objection thereto, and if preferred the same shall be null and void. And provided also that our failure to keep the road in proper repair or our interference with the enjoyment of the right accorded to the public under this agreement, will deprive us, our legal representatives, successors and assigns of all control over the road and vest the same in Government.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Wednesday, the 31st December 1902, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

A few local showers have been received during the past week in the south of the Peninsula, but fine dry weather has prevailed generally in the greater part of the Peninsula and in the plains of Northern India. A depression from Persia entered North-West India on the 29th and gave light showers in Baluchistan on the 30th and 31st and light to moderate snow in Kashmir on the 29th, 30th and 31st. The precipitation was heaviest on the 31st when falls of snow equivalent to 1·4 inches and 1·05 inches of rain were reported respectively from Sonemarg and Astor in Kashmir. The depression gave no rain in the plains of Upper India with the exception of a few drops at Jacobabad on the 31st.

Cloud increased in Burma at the commencement of the week, and though the pressure conditions failed to indicate any well defined disturbance, the direction of the winds in Central Burma showed that a feeble diffused depression was lying over that region on the 27th and 28th which gave fairly general rain in Upper, Central and Lower Burma, the observer at Lashio reported a very heavy fall of 4·74 inches on the 28th but this may be incorrect. Diamond Island received 1½ inches the same day. Showers continued in Burma during the next 24 hours and then ceased.

The rainfall of the week was in excess in Burma and normal in Baluchistan and the sub-division of Calicut. Light rain fell in the East Coast (South), but the amount received was in defect of the normal. Amounts averaging less than 0·1 inch were received in the Brahmaputra Valley and the sub-division of Madura.

The rainfall of the period from the 28th November to date has been normal or in excess in the Burma Coast, Burma (Wet), the sub-division of Calcutta, the East Coast, the Satpuras (with the exception of the Raipur sub-division), the West Coast, Gujarat, the Deccan, South India and the sub-division of Indore. The seasonal rainfall has thus been generally normal or in excess in Burma and the Peninsula and in defect over the greater part of Northern India.

A

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 27th December, 1902.

Madras.— Rainfall nil in the Deccan, the Nilgiris and parts of the central and southern districts; light to fair elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are sufficient except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue generally. The standing crops are fair to good. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have generally fallen.

Bombay.—There was slight rain during the week in parts of Ahmednagar, Sholapur, Belgaum and Kanara. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts in parts of Hyderabad; by rats in parts of Nasik; by insects in parts of Ahmedabad, Nasik and Bijapur; and by untimely rainfall in parts of Nasik, Sholapur, and Satara; elsewhere they are generally in good condition. Harvesting of autumn crops is completed in Sukkur and Kaira; almost completed in Sholapur; and continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Surat. Khandesh, Carnatic, Kanara, Wadhwan, and Baroda. Threshing continues in parts of Sind, Kolaba, Thana, Nasik, Poona, Satara and Dharwar. Spring sowing is completed in Thar and Parkar and Kolaba; is almost over in Larkana, Ahmedabad, and Baroda; and continues in parts of Sukkur, Ratnagiri and Kanara. Cotton is in good condition in parts of Larkana, Ahmedabad, Broach, Belgaum, and Wadhwan, but is slightly damaged by recent rains in parts of Surat and Dharwar. Picking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Khandesh, Nasik and Baroda. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is in good condition and is generally sufficient. The water-supply is adequate. Prices have fallen in three districts; risen in five districts; and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of the principal staples to the normal and prices of 1901 remains substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food-grain in pounds per rupee at head-quarters were as follows:—Ahmedabad thirty-eight; Sholapur fifty seven; Bijapur fifty-one; Kathiawar thirty-six.

The daily average numbers on relief during the week were:—British Districts—On relief works:—518; dependants nil; in poor-houses 1,345; on village relief 3,623; total on gratuitous relief 4,968. Native States—In poor-houses 157; on village relief nil; grand total 5,643.

Bengal.—Slight showers are reported from a few districts of Lower Bengal and Orissa. The standing spring crops require rain in the districts of Nadia, Champaran, Palamau, Manbhum and Singhbhum. Prospects are generally good. Harvesting of winter rice and pressing of sugarcane are going on. Poppy is doing well. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has fallen in eight districts, risen in three, and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—There was no rain during the week, but it is said to be needed in eighteen districts to help the standing crops. Irrigation and weeding are in progress. Pressing of sugarcane continues. Locusts appeared in some places in Almora and Bijnor, but no injury is reported. Crops are in good condition except where they have been damaged by insects in parts of the Moradabad and Mainpuri, and by frost in parts of Bijnor, Moradabad, Bareilly, Aligarh, Muttra, Etawah, Farrukhabad, Shahjahanpur, Hardoi, Pilibhit, Kheri, Unao, Cawnpore, Fatehpur, Hamirpur, and Banda. Supplies and fodder are adequate. Prices are generally stationary.

Punjab.—Rainfall nil. Cotton picking and sugarcane pressing continue in some districts. The til (Sessamum) crop is being gathered in Mooltan. Sowings of spring crops are nearly finished. The conditions and prospects of the standing crops are generally good so far, but rain is urgently wanted throughout the province for unirrigated spring crops. The sugarcane crop has suffered to some extent by frost in parts of Sialkot. The rape-seed and taramira (Eruca sativa) crops are being damaged in parts of Ferozepore by a caterpillar. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except Amritsar, Sialkot, and parts of Mooltan. The prices of food grains are generally unchanged with slight variations in some districts. The price of wheat is rising slightly in Hissar, Jullundur, Rawalpindi, and Shahpur; and is falling in Amritsar.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week, and it is now badly needed for crops on unirrigated lands. Wheat and barley are being sown in Peshawar.

The stocks of food grains are sufficient. Fodder is procurable. Water in canals is sufficient, but rivers are still running low in Peshawar. Prices are rising slightly.

Burma.—Rainfall nil. Reaping of paddy and other winter crops is in progress and is nearly completed in Thongwa, Henzada, Prome, Shwebo, and other parts of Upper Burma. Threshing has commenced in Akyab, Sandoway, and Thongwa. Cultivation of miscellaneous crops and ploughing for dry weather paddy are in progress. The condition of the standing crops remains the same as reported last week. Island crops are said to have failed in Magwe for want of rain. The rain on the last night of the week was heavy in Thongwa and is expected to have damaged crops on threshing floors in Prome. The price of paddy has risen in Thayetmyo.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been clear and abnormally cold throughout the provinces. Light showers of from 4 to 17 cents have fallen in parts of Raipur. The harvesting and threshing of autumn crops are now nearly completed, but juar (giant millet) and cotton picking still continue. Some damage to winter crops by frost is reported from the northern districts, particularly Betul and Narsinghpur, where the pulses and also til and cotton have suffered severely; otherwise the standing crops are in good condition, but insects are doing some damage in Raipur, Bilaspur, Chanda, Balaghat, Nagpur, and Hoshangabad. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices show a slight tendency to rise in Betul, elsewhere there have been slight fluctuations. The lowest prices in seers per rupee were—wheat 18; gram 21½; rice 17; and juar 31½. The highest prices were—wheat 11; gram 12½; rice 8¾; and juar 18. In Raipur the numbers on relief works were as follows:—relief workers—(Public Works Department) adults 4,735; children 798; total 5,533. Gratuitous relief—(otherwise relieved) adults 3,468; children 1,379; total 4,847. Total on all forms of relief 10,380. The number of Public Works Department camps open is 11.

Assam.—The weather is cold. Slight rain has fallen in the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia hills. Rain is wanted for mustard in Lakhimpur. Harvesting of late rice, pruning of tea, and pressing of sugarcane are in progress. The outturn of rice is good in Cachar and fair in other places, except Nowgong and in parts of Kamrup. Prospects of mustard are good in Sylhet, fair in Cachar and Darrang; but poor elsewhere. Gathering of pulse has commenced in Darrang and Lakhimpur. Fodder is scarce in places. Water is insufficient in the Khasi and Jaintia hills. Prices—Common rice—Silchar, Sylhet, Gauhati, and Tezpur 14; Nowgong and Sibsagar 12; Dibrugarh 11½; and Dhubri 11 seers per rupee.

Mysore.—There was good rain in Kadur during the week. General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg.—The rice harvest and picking of coffee continue. Prices of food grains are stationary and fodder is sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool. Picking of cotton and cutting of juar are well advanced. The winter crops are in good condition except in Melghat taluq, where tur (cajan pea) and grain have been damaged by insects. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are fluctuating.

Hyderabad.—Report not received.

Rajputana.—Agricultural operations and standing crops are the same as reported last week. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price in seers per rupee was:—Kotah 36; and the highest Sirohi 14½. There were 639 persons on gratuitous relief in Marwar.

Central India.—Slight rain fell in parts of Gwalior during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. Crops are generally in good condition, but have been slightly damaged in Indore. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand; normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand; and low in Malwa. The average prices in seer per rupee were:—23-13 to 35 in Gwalior; 30½ in Bhopal; 20 to 27 in Bundelkhand; 31½ in Malwa; and 8 to 36 in Indore. Opium is fair in Gwalior and Bhopal and good in Malwa. Watering has commenced in Indore.

Kashmir.—The weather is bright and chilly. Prices are stationary.

Jammu.—Rainfall nil. Prices are fluctuating. Wheat is selling from 13 to 23 seers and maize 21 to 32 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient. Rain is badly wanted.

Nepal.—There was no rain during the week. The weather is frosty and very cold. A fall of snow is reported from the interior. The price of rice is 8½ seers for the rupee.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT—RAILWAY TRAFFIC.

Calcutta, the 23rd December, 1902.

Risk Note, Form G.

READ—

Section 72 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890).
Government of India Circular No. I Railway, dated the 9th March, 1898.

RESOLUTION.

With Government of India Circular No. I Railway, dated the 9th March, 1898, was promulgated a Risk Note, Form D, to be used when the sender elects to despatch at a "special reduced" or "owner's risk" rate dangerous, explosive or combustible articles for which an alternative "ordinary" or "railway risk" rate is quoted by railway administrations. Consignors using that risk note are obliged to execute a separate note in the prescribed form for each consignment despatched by them.

2. To obviate the inconvenience thus experienced by regular consignors, and to assist the trade generally, it has been suggested that an additional Risk Note, Form G, should be introduced for use as an alternative to Form D to cover frequent despatches of dangerous, explosive, or combustible articles booked at owner's risk.

3. The Governor General in Council is accordingly pleased to approve, under section 72 (2) (b) of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), of the use of the enclosed form, with effect from the 1st February, 1903, by railway administrations working railways to which the said Act applies.

4. In the case of railways to which Local Acts similar in scope to the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), are applicable, the Governor General in Council is also pleased to approve of the use of the form from the same date, so far as his approval may be necessary under such Local Acts.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this resolution, and of its enclosure, be communicated to the Local Governments and Administrations and to the Officers marginally noted, for information and guidance; also to the Governments of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, and the Punjab, the Honourable the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces, the Honourable the Agent to the Governor General in Baluchistan, the Honourable the Agent to the Governor General and Chief Commissioner of the North-West Frontier Province, the Accountant General, Public Works Department, and to the Foreign Department, for information. Further, that this resolution and the accompanying form be published under a notification in Part I of the Gazette of India, and that it be reproduced in the Local Government Gazettes.

The Honourable the Chief Commissioner of Assam.
The Honourable the Residents at Hyderabad, Mysore and Baroda.
The Honourable the Agents to the Governor General for Rajputana and Central India.

RISK NOTE, FORM G.

[Approved by the Governor General in Council under section 72 (2) (b) of the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890).]

(To be used as an alternative to Risk Note, Form D, in the case of dangerous, explosive or combustible articles, for which an alternative "ordinary" or "risk acceptance" rate is quoted in the tariff, when the sender desires to enter into a general agreement instead of executing a separate Risk Note for each consignment.)

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the eight days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 8th January 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

There have been light showers over a considerable part of the country during the eight days under review. The depression from Persia which entered North-West India at the close of the previous week gave showers on the 1st and 2nd January to Sialkot, Rawalpindi, Murree, Khushab, Mooltan and the Kashmir stations, the heaviest fall of rain over India having been 0·51 inch at Murree. On the 1st, 2nd and 3rd rain in increasing amounts fell over Ceylon and on the 4th this rainfall extended northward over the south of the Peninsula. On the 4th the fall was confined to Trivandrum Trichinopoly and the stations in the East Coast (South) division. On the 5th it was reported from Tinnevelly, Madura, Trichinopoly, Cuddapah and all the stations along the south of the East Coast, 3·25 inches having fallen at Madras. On the 6th and 7th the rainfall continued over South India and the south of the East Coast and had extended well into the Deccan, the largest amounts reported were 1 inch at Hanumkonda and Sholapur and 2 inches at Nellore on the 6th, and 1 inch at Tinnevelly on the 7th. On the 8th rain from this source ceased. In the meantime on the 5th a depression had appeared over Gujarat and the Gulf of Cambay. This depression occasioned a shift of wind to east over a large part of Northern and Central India, a change which was accompanied on the 6th, 7th and 8th with light snow at Ranikhet, Mussooree, Chakrata and Simla, and light rain at Roorkee, Umballa, Meerut, Delhi and at several stations in the West and East Satpuras and the Central India Plateau, the heaviest amounts at this time were 0·2 inch at Seoni, 0·3 inch at Malegaon and nearly 0·5 inch at Akola and Pachmarhi. The weather has also been showery and unsettled in Persia during the week, but these unsettled conditions have not extended to Baluchistan.

The following table shows that rain was received during the week in the following divisions and sub-divisions, viz., the West Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas, the West Gangetic Plain, the North-West Dry Area, the Central India Plateau, the West Satpuras, the Deccan and the south of the East Coast and in the Jubbulpore, Calicut and Madura sub-divisions. The amount was heavier than usual in the Jubbulpore, Calicut and Madura sub-divisions and in the Deccan and East Coast (South) divisions. The average actual rainfall ranged from only 0·01 inch in the North-West Dry Area to 2·99 inches in the East Coast (South).

The total rainfall for the period November 28th to date has exceeded the normal over Burma Coast and Wet divisions, over the Calcutta sub-division, the East Coast (North) division, the Ranchi and Jubbulpore sub-divisions, the Indore sub-division and the West Coast, Gujarat, West Satpuras, the Deccan, South India and East Coast (South) divisions. Elsewhere the rainfall has been short of the average and over North-West India this deficiency is becoming considerable, thus over the Western Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas, the West Gangetic Plain and the North-West Dry Area the mean average actual rainfall of the season has been only 0·06 inch, while the average normal rainfall is 0·90 inch.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 3rd January, 1903.

Madras.—Rainfall practically nil. The irrigation supplies are sufficient, except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue. The standing crops are generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have fallen generally.

Bombay.—Slight rain fell during the week in parts of Larkana, the Upper Sindh Frontier and Khandesh. More rain is needed in parts of Sukkur and the Upper Sindh Frontier. Standing crops have been damaged by locusts or drought in parts of Hyderabad; by insects in parts of Ahmedabad and Bijapur; and by rats in parts of Nasik. They are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops has been almost completed in Sholapur and Baroda and continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Kaira, Surat, Khandesh, the Carnatic and Kanara. Threshing is in progress in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Thana, Colaba, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, Sholapur and Dharwar. The sowing of spring crops has been completed in parts of Larkana, Thar and Parkar and Thana; is almost over in Ratnagiri; and continues in parts of Sukkur, Surat and Kanara. Cotton crops are in good condition in parts of Ahmedabad, Broach, Belgaum, Dharwar and Wadhwan. Picking has been almost completed in Khandesh and continues in parts of Thar and Parkar and Nasik. The fodder supply is sufficient, except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock are in good condition and generally sufficient. The water supply is adequate. Prices have fallen in three districts, risen in one district and are stationary elsewhere. The price of rice is below the normal in Gujarat, the Konkan and the Carnatic, and over the normal in the Deccan, and compared with 1902 is higher in the Deccan, and generally easier elsewhere. The price of bajra is about normal in the Konkan and below normal elsewhere, and compared with 1902 is generally easier. The price of juar (Giant millet) is below normal in Gujarat, about normal in the Deccan and the Carnatic, over normal in the Konkan, and compared with 1902 is about the same in the Konkan and considerably easier elsewhere. The price of wheat is slightly over normal in Gujarat and considerably over normal in the Deccan, the Konkan and the Carnatic, and compared with 1902 is generally easier. The price of common rice has risen in nine districts, fallen in fourteen and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—The weather was rainless over the provinces except in Almora, where a slight shower was recorded. Rain is wanted and would be beneficial to spring crops particularly in unirrigated tracts. Wheat and barley are coming into ear; and pulse, gram and mustard are flowering. The standing crops have more or less suffered from frost in eighteen districts. Prospects are generally good. Markets are well supplied and fodder is ample, but is dear in Mainpuri. Prices continue generally stationary.

Punjab.—Slight rain has fallen in parts of Ferozepur, Rawalpindi, Mianwali and Mooltan. Sugarcane pressing continues. Sowings of spring crops are nearly finished. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are generally good in irrigated and average on unirrigated lands. Rain is urgently wanted for unirrigated crops throughout the province. The recent rain has done some good to the standing crops in parts of Mianwali, but there is a fear of their withering if no rain falls. The crops are also withering in Hissar and Sialkot for want of rain. The standing crops have suffered to some extent by frost in parts of Jullundur, Ferozepore and Sialkot. PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

IRRIGATION BRANCH.

Resolution by the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner, North-West Frontier Province.

Dated 23rd December 1902.

READ—

Revenue Report by the Chief Engineer, Irrigation Works of the Swát River Canal for the triennial period 1899-1900 to 1901-1902.

RESOLUTION.—The irrigated area during the first two years of the triennium under review was the highest on record. During the year 1901-1902, one of extreme drought when water in all the rivers was low owing to the complete failure of winter rains, very satisfactory results were also attained, the area irrigated being only about 8,000 acres less than that of 1900-1901, the highest on record.

2. There are certain questions as to extension of the Canal across the Mokam Nallah and the measures to be taken to prevent waterlogging which are under discussion

3. The tract irrigated by the Canal still suffers from an insufficiency of settled population to provide tenants for the lands As population increases and settles on the soil, cultivation will doubtless improve, and greater economy of the use of the water will be possible.

4. The question of complete transfer of the Kábul River Canal to the Irrigation Department is under consideration, and it is hoped will be effected during the course of the next year.

5. The Chief Commissioner would record his appreciation of the able management of the Department by Mr. G M R. Field, Chief Engineer, who was in charge during the year and his cordial thanks to him for his ready advice and assistance in irrigation matters.

By order of the Hon'ble Chief Commissioner,

J. BENTON,

Offg. Secy. for Irrigation N.-W. F. Province.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 15th January 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

There has been very little rain over the greater part of India during the week under review. At the beginning of the week a very shallow depression was shown over the East Satpuras and the Central India Plateau, and Saugor and Jubbulpore each reported showers of 0·25 inch on the 9th, and Sutna a shower of 0·09 inch on the 10th. During the 11th another very shallow depression appeared over Bengal. A light shower giving 0·10 inch of rain occurred at Chaibassa on this day, while on the 12th rain was reported from Sibsagar and Tezpur, on the 13th from Dibrugarh, Sibsagar, Tezpur, Gaya, Benares, Chaibassa, Hazaribagh, Sutna and Saugor, on the 14th from Silchar, Barisal, Saugor Island, Jessore, Sibsagar, Dibrugarh, Burdwan, Chaibassa, Hazaribagh, and Balasore, and on the 15th from Saugor Island, False Point and Sibsagar. Most of these showers were very light, seldom exceeding 0·10 inch in amount, but Silchar reported nearly 2 inches on the morning of the 14th.

The weather has been feebly unsettled over Persia and Baluchistan during the week, Chaman reporting light showers on the 9th and 10th, and Jask moderate showers on the 14th and 15th. At Aden also the weather has been unsettled and rain was received on the 10th and 11th. In Kashmir on the other hand, the weather has been exceptionally fine, and practically no snow has fallen.

The following table shows that rain has been received during the week in the Delta of Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley, the East Gangetic Plain and the Baluchistan divisions, and in the Cuttack, Ranchi, Jubbulpore and Jhansi sub-divisions, the average actual amount ranging from 0·40 inch in the Narayanganj sub-division to 0·02 inch in the Baluchistan division. The rainfall has been slightly heavier than usual in the Delta of Bengal and the Burdwan, Cuttack and Ranchi sub-divisions; except in the above divisions and sub-divisions the weather has been rainless during the week.

There has been no important change in the seasonal condition, but as pointed out last week, the seasonal deficiency in North-West India is becoming large. Thus in the Simla sub-division since the 28th November 1902, only 0·19 inch of rain has been received instead of the normal 2·46 inches, in the Ludhiana sub-division only 0·04 inch instead of 1·52 inches, in the Cawnpore sub-division only 0·02 inch instead of 0·70 inch, in the Lahore sub-division only 0·04 inch instead of 0·91 inch, in the North-West Dry division only 0·01 inch instead of 0·57 inch and in the Jhansi sub-division only 0·15 inch instead of 0·86 inch.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 10th January, 1903.

Madras.—The rain was good during the week in Cuddapah, the Carnatic, North Arcot and Tanjore; nil in the Circars, parts of the Deccan and the West Coast Districts; and light to fair elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are generally sufficient except in parts of Ganjam, Anantapur, and Salem. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally in good condition. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have generally fallen.

Bombay.—There was moderate rain during the week in parts of Khandesh, Nasik, Poona, and Sholapur; and slight falls in parts of Ahmednagar, Bijapur and Belgaum. More rain is needed in parts of Sukkur, Larkana and the Upper Sindh Frontier. The standing crops have been damaged by locusts, rats or insects in parts of Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, and Nasik; by frost in parts of Hyderabad and the Upper Sindh Frontier; by cloudy weather in parts of Nasik, Bijapur, Surat, and Dharwar; and by the recent rainfall in parts of Broach, Poona, Sholapur, and Khandesh. They are also suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Karachi, but are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops continues in parts of Ahmedabad, Kaira, Surat, Khandesh, Sholapur, Satara, Belgaum, Dharwar, and Kanara. Threshing is almost over in Thana and Colaba, and is progressing in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, and Dharwar. The spring sowings have been completed in Sukkur, Ratnagiri, and Baroda, and continue in parts of Surat. Cotton is in good condition in Dharwar and Wadhwan, and is slightly injured in parts of Surat, Broach, Bijapur, and Dharwar by rain or cloudy weather. Picking is completed in Khandesh, and continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Ahmedabad, Broach, Belgaum, and Baroda. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is in good condition and generally sufficient. The water-supply is adequate. Prices have fallen in five districts, risen in one district, and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of the principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1902 remains substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food grains in pounds per rupee at head-quarters were:—Ahmedabad thirty-eight; Bijapur fifty-three.

The daily average numbers on relief were:-British Districts-in poor-houses 83; on village relief 1,472; total 1,555.

Bengal—No rain. The prospects of the standing spring crops are generally good, but rain is needed in the districts of Bankura, Nadia, Jessore, Pabna, Patna, Gaya, Champaran, Bhagalpur, Sonthal Parganas and Singhbhum. Harvesting and threshing of winter rice are going on. Poppy is doing well. There is no want of fodder or water. The price of common rice has risen in seven districts, fallen in twelve, and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—A sprinkling of rain is reported in ten districts but more is now generally required. Irrigation is being actively carried on and the pressing of sugarcane continues. The crops in thirteen districts are reported to have been injured by frost. Prospects are otherwise good and the poppy crop is said to be doing well. Fodder and supplies are sufficient. Prices have a tendency to rise.

Punjab.—Slight rain has fallen in parts of Hissar, Umballa, and Mooltan. Pressing of sugacane continues in some districts. The til (sesamum) and cotton crops are being gathered in Mooltan. The spring crops are being irrigated in Lahore. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are generally good on irrigated and average on unirrigated lands. Rain is badly wanted throughout the province. Unirrigated crops are withering for want of rain in Hissar and Lahore. The sugarcane crop has suffered from frost in Jullundur and Sialkot. Crops are being damaged by eaterpillars in parts of Ferozepore. Locusts appeared in parts of Mianwali and measures were taken for their destruction. Cattle are generally in good condition, but are being overworked in some districts. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except Lahore, Amritsar, Sialkot, Mianwali, and Mooltan. Sugarcane is being used as fodder in Amritsar and Sialkot. The price of wheat is slightly rising in Jullundur, Lahore, and Mooltan, and is falling in Amritsar. The prices of other food grains remain generally unchanged.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week. The condition of the crops is average or middling, but rain is badly wanted everywhere and certain crops are beginning to wither. The stock of food grains is sufficient. Fodder is procurable but is scarce and dear. The canals are still running well in Peshawar. Prices are rising in Peshawar and are steady in Dera Ismail Khan.

Burma.—Rainfall nil. Reaping of the main wet weather paddy is completed in six and nearly completed in eight districts. Threshing and winnowing are going on. Sowing for and transplanting of dry weather paddy have commenced in Mandalay, Shwebo, and Upper Chindwin. Cultivation of island crops is progressing in Pakokku. The condition of the standing crops remains almost the same as reported last week, but in Mandalay the paddy in the Mogaung tract has failed owing to the absence of later rains, and dry crops in upland tracts are also withering for want of rain and dew. The price of paddy has fallen slightly in Tharrawaddy, Prome, and Katha; considerably in Pegu; largely in Pakokku; and has risen considerably in Amherst; elsewhere it is stationary.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been cloudy and light showers have fallen in most districts. In parts of Wardha the fall amounted to 68 cents. The harvesting and threshing of autumn crops are practically completed, but the picking of cotton and juar (Giant millet) still continues in a few districts. The spring crops are generally in good condition, but damage by frost is reported from Damoh, Jubbulpore, Narsinghpur, Bhandara, and Balaghat. Some damage by the cloudy weather especially to linseed is reported from Nagpur, Chanda, Raipur, and Betul; and insects are damaging tur (Cajan pea) and gram in Chanda. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices have slightly fluctuated. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are:—Wheat 17; gram 22; rice 17½; and juar 30. The highest are:—wheat 10; gram 11¼; rice 8¾; and juar 18. In Raipur the numbers on relief works were as follows:—Relief works—(Public Works Department), adults 9,751; children 1,568; total 11,319. In poor-houses—adults 31; children 15; total 46. On gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved)—adults 3,026; children 1,260; total 4,286. Total on all forms of relief 15,651. The number of Public Works Department Camps open is 11.

Assam.—Light rain has fallen in Upper and Central Assam. Rain is wanted for mustard in Cachar and for the standing crops in Sylhet. Harvesting of late rice; pruning of tea; pressing of sugarcane; and gathering of mustard and pulse are in progress. The outturn of late rice and sugarcane is generally fair, except in Nowgong and parts of Kamrup; of pulse poor in Nowgong; elsewhere outturn is fair to good. Prospects of mustard are good in Sylhet; fair in Darrang and Sibsagar; but poor in other districts. Fodder is scarce in places. The water supply is insufficient in the Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—Common rice Silchar 15; Sylhet and Tezpur 14; Gauhati 13; Dhubri, Nowgong, and Sibsagar 12; and Dibrugarh 11½ seers per rupee.

Mysore.—General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Cattle are healthy except in parts of Shimoga. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg.—The rice harvest and picking of coffee continue. Prices of food grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool and cloudy. Cotton picking and cutting of jowar are nearing completion. The winter crops are doing well except gram which has been damaged by insects in parts of the Basim and Ellichpur districts. Land is being prepared for monsoon crops in the Basim district. The fodder and water-supply are ample. The price of jowar shows a tendency to rise.

Hyderabad.—Rainfall 27 cents. The harvest of late autumn crops continues. The early rice harvest is nearing completion in parts. Insects are doing damage in parts to the spring and oil seed crops, while the recent cold has also injured the standing spring crops. The winter rice sowings continue over a limited area. Prices—wheat 7¼, rice 8¾, and jowar 25⅝ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana.—There was a slight sprinkling of rain in Jhallawar, Alwar, and Ajmer. There is no change in agricultural operations, the standing crops, and harvests. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food grains in seers per rupee was—Kotah 36; the highest price—Sirohi 14¼. The number on gratuitous relief in Marwar is 654.

Central India.—Slight rain fell in Gwalior, Bhopal, Malwa, and Bhopawar. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. The crops are generally good but have been slightly damaged by frost in parts of Gwalior and Baghelkhand; and by hail, cold and insects in parts of Dhar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand; normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand; and low in Malwa. Average prices—26 to 38-13 in Gwalior; 42-6 in Bhopal; 22 to 28 in Bundelkhand; 31 in Malwa;

32 to 40 in Bhopawar; and 8¼ to 36 in Indore. Opium is good in Gwalior and fair in Bhopal. Operations are in progress in Bhopawar and Indore. The crop has been slightly injured by hail in Dhar.

Kashmir.—The weather is bright and severely cold. Prices are more above normal. Rice is selling at 13 seers per rupee. JAMMU.—No rain. Prices are stationary. Wheat is selling from 13 to 23 seers and maize 21 to 32 seers per rupee. The standing crops are withering for want of rain which is badly needed. Fodder is growing scarce.

Nepal.—There was no rain during the week. The weather is frosty and very cold. A fall of snow is reported from the interior. The price of rice is 8½ seers for the rupee.

REPORT ON THE TRADE OF KHORASAN AND SEISTAN FOR 1901-1902.

INTRODUCTION.

Since the last Meshed Trade report was written in 1900, there has been a great and important change in the system of Customs Administration in Persia which has made it possible to present, for the first time since the establishment of a British Consulate-General at Meshed, a report on the trade of Khorasan and Seistan based to some extent on accurate statistics. Previous to 1900 the Customs of the two provinces were farmed out to contractors who, if they kept reliable records of their transactions, could hardly have been expected to make them available to the public through the medium of a Consular Trade report and the statistics which they supplied were recognized to be of such little value that Meshed Trade reports have frequently been prefaced with the warning that they had been prepared from information obtained from unreliable sources. It will be remembered that one of the conditions of the Russian loan to Persia in 1900 of 22,500,000 roubles, for which the Customs revenue was security, was that the administration of the Customs should be brought under European control. Accordingly, in the early part of 1900 the Custom-houses throughout the kingdom were, with a few exceptions, handed over to a body of specially selected Belgian Customs officers, and the administration of the Customs has since remained in their hands. No report on the Trade of Khorasan and Seistan during 1901-1902 could consequently be regarded as complete without some reference to the effect generally which the change of system in administering the Customs has had. The reference is, however, necessarily brief for two reasons: firstly, because there is no space in a Consular Trade report for a lengthy dissertation on the relative advantages of the two systems, and secondly, because the new system has not been working long enough for it to be possible to say how it has definitely affected trade. The gain in revenue to the State for instance may be safely assumed to have been considerable. The exact figures are not availabe, but as it is known that the value of the imports and exports passing through the Custom-houses under Monsieur Castaigne's orders in 1901-1902 was £768,972, and that 5 per cent. duty was leviable on this amount, there can be little doubt that the sum credited to Government was substantial. In other respects also improvements have been made. A better class of subordinate Customs official is employed, peculation is, as far as possible, suppressed and a proper system of accounts has been introduced.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The tabular statements showing the value of the imports and exports of Khorasan and Seistan during 1900-1901 and 1901-1902 (from March 21st to March 21st) which are given with this report have, with the exception of the statement showing the imports by the Bandar Abbas, Bushire-Yezd and Tabriz routes, been prepared from statistics courteously made available to the Consulate-General by Monsieur Castaigne, Director General of Customs in Khorasan and Seistan. For a Trade report, however, to be of any real value it should be possible to compare the trade of the year under report with the trade of previous years. In the present instance a comparison of the trade of 1901-1902 with that of the preceding year, which was the first of the new Customs management, would be likely to be misleading, as the statistics for 1900-1901 have not admittedly the same claims to accuracy as the statistics for 1901-1902. A comparison of the trade of 1901-1902 with the trade of years previous to 1900-1901 would, either owing to the unreliable nature of the information on which former Meshed Trade reports have been based, or in consequence of the reports dealing with only a part of the trade of the two provinces, be valueless.

There are only three countries which can be described as having serious trade interests in Khorasan and Seistan: they are Russia, Great Britain and Afghanistan. The statistics of foreign trade supplied by the Customs authorities are accurate as far as they go, but they give an altogether erroneous idea of the real value of British and British Indian trade with Khorasan and Seistan. A glance at these statistics would give the impression that British and British Indian trade had dwindled to a shadow of its former self. This is, however, by no means true. The customs statistics give £768,972 as the value of the imports and exports which passed through the custom houses of Khorasan and Seistan during 1901-1902. This figure may be said to represent practically the entire trade of Russia, Afghanistan and British India by the Seistan route with the two provinces. The British share of this total is only £34,570. The Seistan route, however, though showing signs of increased propularity, is not as yet the principal artery for British and British Indian trade with Khorasan and Seistan. The route which appears to be still the most used is the route from Bandar Abbas. The statistics of British and British Indian trade by this route and by the Bushire-Yezd and Tabriz routes which have appeared in former Meshed trade reports have been supplied by the Meshed customs farmer who, by arrangement with the Bandar Abbas, Bushire, and Tabriz Customs farmers, was in a position to state what proportion of the imports and exports declared at these three places appertained to the trade of Khorasan and Seistan. These imports and exports are, however, now declared in the usual way, and are not known to be Khorasan and Seistan exports and imports. The Meshed Customs authorities have consequently no means of arriving at their value. The export trade with British possessions by these routes is insignificant, but an attempt has been made to arrive at the approximate value of the imports by ascertaining from British firms and Persian merchants trading with British possessions who use these routes, the approximate value of the goods which have been imported by them during 1901-1902, and by embodying the result in the tabular statements already referred to. It may safely be said that the value of British imports by these routes is considerably higher than the estimate of its value arrived at in this rough way, but taking the values of British and British Indian trade as given in the tabular statements, viz. :—

Viâ Seistan route	£34,570	(imports and exports)
„ Bandar Abbas route	£59,329	(imports only)
„ Bushire route	£26,484	„
„ Tabriz route	£18,060	„

it is clear that the total value of the trade during 1901-1902 was at the lowest estimate £138,443, which, in view of the enormous difficulties which British traders have to contend with in getting their goods to Khorasan where the best trade centres are situated, is far from being a contemptible figure. The share of Russia of the trade of 1901-1902, accounted for by the customs statistics was £646,398 and of Afghanistan £88,004. The favourable geographical position of Russia and the bounty system followed by her Government are the chief causes of the preponderance of Russian trade in Khorasan. To what lengths this bounty system is carried may be judged from the fact that the price of Russian sugar in Ashkabad is double the price for which it sells in Khorasan. Russian trade preponderance is, however, confined to Khorasan, as practically the entire foreign trade of Seistan is in British hands.

BRITISH AND BRITISH INDIAN IMPORTS.

Tea.

The value of British and British Indian imports during 1901-1902 was £131,775. Chief among British and British Indian Imports to Khorasan and Seistan is tea. This is and should continue to be as safe a British monopoly as sugar is a Russian monopoly. There is said to have been a large accumulation of Indian tea in Meshed at the end of 1900-1901 and the tea trade during 1901-1902 is described as not having been as brisk in consequence as in recent years, the taste for tea is strongly developed even among the poorer classes of Persians, and there is always likely to be a strong and steady demand for it in Khorasan and Seistan. The value of the tea imported by the Bandar Abbas, Bushire and Seistan routes, was £50,267, but a considerable proportion of the tea brought by the two former routes is said to have been Chinese tea for exportation to Trans-Caspia and Turkistan.

Indigo.

Although much of the indigo which is imported into Khorasan and Seistan also finds its way to the Russian provinces above mentioned, the quantity which has hitherto remained was sufficient to make the local trade one of great importance. The local demand is said, however, to have decreased latterly in consequence of the increasingly heavy importation of Russian prints and chintzes of all colours which, owing to the bounty given by the Russian Government on their exportation to Persia, are being sold at very low rates. These prints and chintzes are penetrating to the remotest parts of the provinces and their cheapness is making it most difficult for local dyeing to be carried on at a profit. The Trans-Caspian and Turkistan demand during 1901-1902, on the other hand, shows no signs of declining, the reason being that the price of the Russian prints and chintzes which are sold so cheaply in Persia is not as yet sufficiently low in these provinces to seriously affect the local dyer's business. The value of the indigo imported into Khorasan and Seistan in 1901-1902 was £18,402.

Piece-goods or textile fabrics.

In view of the great demand which the figures for Russian imports under this head clearly show to be existing in Khorasan and Seistan, the value of British woollen and cotton piece-goods imported during 1901-1902, viz., £34,418 is disappointingly low. Merchants dealing in these goods explain, however, that the bounty system enables the Russian traders to sell Russian cotton piece-goods so cheaply that they regard it as only a question of time for the British article to be driven from the Khorasan markets. The prospects in the woollen piece-goods trade are said to be somewhat better, and a fair business was done in these goods during 1901-1902. The high rate of camel hire on the Bandar Abbas route made profit making in both lines of business more difficult than usual.

Yarn.

The same causes which militated against success in the cotton piece-goods trade injuriously affected the yarn trade during 1901-1902. It is, moreover, to be feared that the demand for this article will never regain its former proportions. The Russian bounty-fed manufacturer has again stepped in and captured a branch of trade which has been hitherto practically a British monopoly. He has manufactured a striped print which so closely resembles a cloth formerly much in use among the Turkomans and Kurds and which was locally made from dyed Indian yarn, and sells it at so cheap a rate, that it has completely supplanted the latter. The local yarn cloth industry has in consequence ceased to exist, and with it a large part of the demand for Indian yarn. The value of the yarn imported during the year was £7,200.

Copper.

Copper is being found in such large quantities in the neighbourhood of Nishapur that the importation of copper from India is said to have ceased to be profitable.

Spices.

There was a large accumulation of stocks of these articles at the end of 1900-1901 owing to excessive importation during that year, and low prices ruled accordingly during the year under review. Business was slack in consequence. The value of spices imported from India in 1901-1902 was £1,996.

Haberdashery and ironmongery.

Haberdashery and ironmongery appear under one head in the customs statistics. The quantity of British iron articles, however, imported is not great and the bulk of the importation was haberdashery, the term including thread, needles, pins, handkerchiefs, towels, socks, and scarves.

RUSSIAN IMPORTS.

The value of Russian imports during 1901-1902 was £341,447.

Sugar. Sugar is Russia's chief import. It is an article which, owing to the Persian's love of sweetmeats and to the extraordinary quantity which he is in the habit of using to sweeten his tea, finds an excellent market throughout the country. The value of Russian sugar imported into Khorasan and Seistan during 1901-1902 was £144,625, or more than 40 per cent. of Russia's total importation.

Textile fabrics. Second in importance to sugar among Russian imports are "textile fabrics." There was a heavy importation of these articles in 1901-1902, the value of cotton piece-goods alone reaching £115,799. The bounty given by the Russian Government on the exportation of cotton goods to Persia has enabled the Russian manufacturers to capture the Khorasan markets for these goods and is enabling them to retain possession of these markets. It is considered doubtful, however, by persons competent to judge, whether the Russian cotton goods could seriously compete with English cotton piece-goods in Khorasan, if the Russian Government were to abandon their bounty system.

Kerosine oil. This is an article for which there is a steady demand and on the sale of which excellent profits are realized. The oil is brought from Ashkabad by fourgons in strong metal cases which are sold with the oil to the retail dealers and which make an excellent receptacle for the oil in the latter's shops. This branch of trade is another Russian monopoly. The value of kerosine oil imported during 1901-1902 was £14,618.

Paper. The paper on sale in the Khorasan bazars is chiefly Russian paper. It is inferior in quality but cheap in price and consequently finds favour with the Persians.

Haberdashery and ironmongery. There was a fairly heavy importation of Russian haberdashery during 1901-1902. Under the term ironmonergy, nails are included. There is a heavy demand for this article in Khorasan which is mainly supplied by Russia. The Russian nail cannot compare either in finish or durability with the British article, but owing to the distance of the Khorasan markets from British possessions, nails of British manufacture are rarely seen in Khorasan.

Metals. There is a considerable demand in Khorasan for iron and steel which is mainly supplied from Russia. The value of these metals imported from Russia in 1901-1902 was £8,010.

Glassware. There is a fair demand for this article which is also mainly supplied from Russia. The demand in 1901-1902 is said to have been normal.

Matches. Nearly £5,130 worth of Russian matches was imported during 1901-1902. The matches are of inferior manufacture, but cheap in price.

Rice. The rice which figures in the customs returns as a Russian import is not grown in Russia, but comes from the neighbourhood of Resht, whence it is sent viâ the Caspian to Ashkabad to be exported to Eastern Persia.

AFGAN IMPORTS.

The value of Afghan imports into Khorasan and Seistan in 1901-1902 was £69,759.

The bulk of the wool which is the chief Afghan import brought into Khorasan is sold to Russian Armenians who export it to Russia, whence much of it is said to be again exported to France and the United States. The value of the Afghan wool imported in 1901-1902 was £29,156 or more than 40 per cent. of the total importation.

"Ghi" or clarified butter and rice are other important Afghan imports.

The value of the former article imported in 1901-1902 was £14,100, of the latter £5,737.

BRITISH EXPORTS.

The value of the exports sent to India by the Seistan route in 1901-1902 was £6,668. The export trade with British possessions by the other routes to the south is described as being equally insignificant. Silk piece-goods, horses and "ghi" are the principal exports by the Seistan route. The two former are sent chiefly from Khorasan and the latter from Seistan, but there is not a heavy exportation under these heads. The chances of a lucrative export trade between Khorasan and India seem as remote as ever. Attempts have recently been made to sell Khorasan wool in India, but they were not attended with success and have been abandoned.

Raw cotton and hides are two other important exports, but merchants are of opinion that these aricles are never under present conditions likely to repay exportation to India.

RUSSSIAN EXPORTS.

Russia absorbs over 90 per cent. of the export trade of Khorasan and Seistan. Raw cotton, raw wool, hides and skins, dried fruits, live stock, shawls, carpets, opium and certain coloured Persian cotton cloths, which the Russian manufacturers have not as yet succeeded in copying, are all largely exported to Russia and find a good market there.

The proximity of Russia gives her so commanding a position in the Khorasan export trade that she has little reason to fear that it can ever be wrested from her.

Indigo and tea figure in the Customs statistics among Khorasan exports. The indigo is Indian indigo and, as the demand for it in Trans-Caspia and Turkistan is said to be very considerable, the Customs figures probably only represent an infinitesimal part of the real exportation from Khorasan to these provinces. The tea is said to be chiefly Chinese green tea imported by the Bandar Abbas route into Meshed and sent thence to Trans-Caspia and Turkistan.

Afghan Exports.

The export trade of Khorasan and Seistan with Afghanistan is unimportant. Textile fabrics figure as the chief, and indeed the only important export, in the Customs Statistics, but these goods were of foreign manufacture, chiefly Russian, which were imported into Meshed and sent from there to the province of Herat.

Cost of Carriage.

The average cost of carriage during 1901-1902 by the two most important routes from the South to Meshed was—viâ the Seistan route (from Quetta) . . . 265 krans* per Meshed Kharwar of 650 lbs.

viâ the Bandar Abbas route (from Bandar Abbas) 340 krans per Meshed Kharwar of 650 lbs.

Prices.

A table of the prices of the principal imports and exports is given at the end of the report.

Exchange.

Mr. M. Ferguson, the Manager of the Meshed Branch of the Imperial Bank of Persia, has been kind enough to write the following note on the exchange which ruled in Meshed during 1901-1902 :—

" During the year, March 1901—March 1902, the exchange in Meshed kept very much lower than in any other part of Persia. The average rates for the different changes were—

Demand bills on London 5 ½ krans per pound sterling.
" " Bombay 30½ rupees per krans 100.
" " Russia 535 krans per roubles 100.

Nothing occurred to influence the exchange abnormally which varied according to the seasons of demand between krans 49 and krans 51 per pound sterling."

List of Prices.

The list of prices of the principal imports and exports ruling in 1901-1902 is not procurable. The following note gives the prices ruling in Meshed at the present moment viz. in November 1902 of some of the principal imports and exports and has been prepared by Mr. T. J. Greensill who is canvassing for trade in Khorasan and Seistan. The Kran has decreased in value since March 1902 and the present rate of exchange is approximately 57 Krans to the pound sterling. The present value of the Kran then is nearer four pence than five pence, the approximate value in 1901-1902. A tuman equals ten Krans. With regard to weights the Meshed "man," the usual measure of weight in Khorasan, equals 6½ English pounds. The Khawar equals 100 Meshed Mans or 650 pounds.

Imported into Meshed from India.

Tea.

There are several kinds of both black and green tea sold here but the most in demand are the following:—

1. Black tea.—Fine Pekoe leaf wiry and even with few tips, known here as "Kalami," present rate 20 krans per Meshed "man" (the Meshed tea "man" is now fixed at 7 lbs. or correctly 14¼ "mans" to the 100 lbs.) with a credit of fifteen months equivalent to 17 krans cash. Leafy kinds are not much in demand, but some would sell at 20 krans carrying 20 to 5 months' credit equivalent to 15 to 16 krans cash.

2. Green tea.—Gunpowder-bold even leaf coloured greenish, known here as "Sabz," present rate 21 krans per Meshed "man" (7 lbs.) with four months' credit, equivalent to about 20 krans cash. For natural unfaced or faced there is no demand, but coloured after the China style, in India known as Bombay tea, would find ready sale if not too expensive. Heavy soap-stoned greens are rejected at once.

3. White or Silver tipped tea.—Known here as "Lamsa," is really a mixed tea, consisting of about 15 per cent. silver tips and about 85 per cent. uneven Orange Pekoe and Pekoe leaf and comes chiefly from Java usually packed in 5 lb. lead-lined wooden boxes and sells here at 40 krans per "man" (7 lbs.) with twelve months' credit which is equivalent to about 35 krans cash. Those with more white tips fetch slightly better rates, but the demand is very limited.

At present Nos. 1 and 2 would find ready sale for fairly large quantities. No. 3 would find buyers but for a small consignment.

Indigo.

Bengal Indigo—For which there is little demand, sells at 80 krans per Meshed "man" (6½ lbs.) with fifteen months' credit.

Punjab Indigo.—Comes from Multan and Khairpur and sells according to quality at 30, 24, 20 and 17 krans per Meshed "man" (6½ lbs.) bearing 20, 15, 15 and 10 months' credit respectively.

Sheeting

British and Indian, 17 to 20 krans per piece of 24 yards.

Longcloth, bleached.—Known in Persia as "juddai" or "jaddagi" or "chilwari," Prima Brand and No. 7 in demand in Persia owing to their cheapness and at present selling Prima at 35 krans, and No. 7 at 32 krans per piece of 40 to 42 yards.

Longcloth, unbleached.—Known in Persia as "Mitkál" or "Náshur." Those of 24 yards per piece selling at 19 to 21 krans and those of 37 and 38 yards per piece selling at 28 to 32 krans.

Other piece-goods.—Broad cloths, serges, cashmeres and flannels, etc., etc., colours black or sombre preferred. Some striped trouserings are also used, but very little checks. Rates 8 to 25 krans per yard, according to quality, find fairly ready sale but the more expensive kinds sell slowly.

Cotton Yarn and Twist.—There is more demand for twist than for yarn.

Yarn.—The Persians call it "yakla." White No. 20, weighing 9 lbs. 20 krans per bundle. Coloured yarn No. 20 bundle weighing 4½ lbs. at 16 krans per bundle.

Twist.—Called by the Persian "Dulla." Only white selling at 28 to 32 krans per No. 30 bundle weighing 9 lbs. in great demand at present.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.
FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

REPORT ON THE TRADE OF SEISTAN AND KAIN FOR THE YEAR 1901-1902.

1. The figures contained in this, the first Trade Report that has been compiled since the establishment of a British Vice-Consulate in Seistan, were obtained, with the exception of those for Kain, from the records of the Persian Customs Department through the kindness of their Belgian Director in Seistan.

Owing, however, to the fact that for 3 months of the year (April, May, July) the Customs Department in Seistan was not under direct European supervision, the records were only systematically kept for 9 out of the 12 months under report.

The figures furnished from Birjand must be regarded as only approximately correct. The same facilities for obtaining statistical information were not forthcoming there as in Seistan, and the returns, though prepared from the most reliable sources available, are wanting in detail and accuracy.

The records of the Customs Department being kept in the Persian currency the figures in this report have been converted into the Indian and English currency at the average rate of exchange for the year, viz.:—

Krans 350 = R100; R15 = £1.

2. It is necessary to preface this report with the remark that Seistan can in no way be considered a large trading centre. It can, at present, support a small local import and export trade only. The inhabitants, being mostly of the agricultural class, cheapness, rather than quality, is looked for, and ready money is very scarce. Birjand, the capital of the Kainat, has a much larger import and export market, and a wealthier trading community.

Seistan derives its importance commercially from the fact that it is the chief distributing centre for the larger and more opulent markets of the Kainat, Khorasan, and the Afghan frontier towns; and from the fact that it is the main Customs Bureau of Entrance for Eastern Persia.

3. There are but two main trade routes from India by which goods are imported into Seistan and Kain, viz.—

(1) The Quetta-Nushki route
(2) The Persian Gulf route viâ Bunder Abbas.

Calculated on the statistics* contained in this report 51 per cent. of the total import and export trade of Seistan and Kain, for the year 1901-1902, passed by the Bunder Abbas route, while 49 per cent. passed by the Quetta-Nushki route, thus giving a slight balance of 2 per cent in favour of the Bunder Abbas route. But it must be remembered that the Birjand figures are not reliable, are founded on native sources of information and, therefore, perhaps, somewhat exaggerated. In any case the percentage in favour of the Bunder Abbas route is very slight. It may be attributed to two main causes; force of habit, and the new Customs Regulations. It is not easy to get an Asiatic out of a groove. The Persian of Seistan and Kain has for years been using the Bunder Abbas route, and, though he loves novelty in almost every other respect, when it comes to leaving a beaten track and his own country, to enter a strange one he hesitates to take the step. The Bunder Abbas route does not take him out of his native land.

The new Customs organization and the strict control exercised thereby over the movements of traders were resented by the Persian trading community generally who were unable to understand what they regarded as an innovation. By using the Bunder Abbas route the Persian trader avoids having any direct monetary dealings with the officials of the Customs Department; for his business transactions with Bunder Abbas are conducted through the medium of a broker who includes all customs charges in his bill. Although this plan must cost the Persian trader dearer, yet he would apparently prefer it. If he would use the Nushki route he must pass through the Customs house here and pay cash before he can start.

Again, the Persian merchants who trade by the Bunder Abbas route generally own their own camel transport. An idea, which it seems difficult to disabuse their minds of still exists among them, that if they went to Quetta their animals must be impressed for Government service elsewhere, and this idea probably acts as a deterrent with many.

As regards facilities for travelling, the two routes cannot, as far as I am aware, be compared. The Nushki route is now provided with rest-houses and, I understand, with good wells at every stage; while it is now possible to travel on it with the utmost safety. The Bunder Abbas route cannot, it is understood, yet claim these advantages.

As regards cost of transport on the two routes, which are about the same in length, camel hire from Quetta to Seistan during the year averaged R5 per Indian maund (80 lbs.). From Seistan to Birjand camel hire averaged R2-8 per Indian maund. This makes a total of R7-8 per Indian maund from Quetta to Birjand. From Bunder Abbas to Birjand the cost of transport averaged about R5-8 per Indian maund, so that the latter route would appear to hold a slight advantage as regards cost of transport.

*Not published.

But it must be remembered that no fixed rate exists either here or in Birjand, and the cost of transport is invariably a matter of bargaining.

The use of the Birjand route is confined almost entirely to Persian traders but the experience of the past year should prove a deterrent to many; for over 500 camels are said to have succumbed to the hardships of this route during the past trading season. It is hoped that with patience and as they gradually become accustomed to the benefits of a well organised Customs Department, the Persian merchant will be more ready to patronise the Quetta-Nushki route.

British Indian merchants in Seistan and Kain used the Nushki route only; they readily fell in with the new Customs regulations.

Imports.—The import trade of Seistan consists of (1) merchandise from India, (2) Merchandise from Meshed (mostly Russian goods), (3) merchandise from Afghanistan.

Of the total imports into Seistan 90 per cent. comes from India, 7 per cent. from Meshed and 3 per cent. from Afghanistan. Again, of the total imports to Seistan 40 per cent. (of which about ¾ were Indian goods) remained in Seistan, while 30 per cent. passed through for the Khorasan markets.

70 per cent comes by the Nushki route.
20 per cent. " " Bunder Abbas.

The import trade of Seistan is confined to articles of low price. Only the local officials and a few headmen of villages have money to spend on expensive articles. The latter command a better sale in Birjand. Barter still exists in Seistan and business transactions on a large scale do not exist among local merchants. More business appears to be done with Afghan merchants than with the Seistanis themselves. The system of long credit, prevalent all over Persia, is also demanded here.

A system of trade, known as "dast-farosh", is very popular here among British Indian merchants. It is a system of hawking on a superior scale. A certain amount of merchandise is entrusted to a village trader, who visits all the neighbouring villages in turn and receives a commission on his sales. Even the hawker's wife enters into the arrangement and in this way a great deal of merchandise which would not otherwise find a sale reaches the "anderun" or female apartments of local notables.

An attempt has been made in the accompanying tables to classify the Indian imports according to their selling capacity in Seistan, and it is hoped that they will form a useful guide to intending Indian or other traders desirous of coming to Seistan. The following remarks are now offered on the different imports:—

Cotton and Woollen Goods.—Of these, Turkey Reds, Longcloth (known as "jadgi" and of three kinds), coloured Cotton Prints, nainsook, enamel ware, coloured handkerchiefs, command an extensive and ready sale.

Of coloured cotton prints, that known as "gagarah" (yellow flowers on a red ground) is sold as fast as it can be imported.

A good deal of Russian coloured prints is sold in Seistan. Its colour is said to be more permanent and it is certainly popular. The Indian prints however, easily hold their own and the Seistani buys the Russian print probably more from force of habit than anything else. The Seistani has not yet had time to test the Indian article properly. If our prints could be made a little stouter in quality and of a more permanent colour, they would command an enormous sale. The prices of the English and Russian prints are about the same.

Handkerchiefs.—These command an enormous sale, provided they are not less than 1 yard square and are coloured.

Enamel-ware.—All kinds are in demand except articles of household furniture. Enamel drinking mugs, if of small size, command no sale whatever. Oval shaped large flat dishes are much sought after.

Tea.—Both black and green tea command a sale. About ⅛th of the tea imported was Black. Black tea is consumed locally and green is exported to Afghan territory. White tipped tea called "Lumsai" is the favourite.

Indigo.—Only the chief quality is used in Seistan. Although it is universally used, our merchants find very little sale for it, and have given up importing it to a large extent for local use. The reason is that the Seistani dyers, who own their own transport, generally, go themselves to Sukkur or Multan to fetch it. As often as not they evade the customs by using the Afghan route and can thus easily undersell our merchants on their return to Seistan.

Sugar.—Loaf Sugar is in universal demand. Three kinds are imported, viz., French, Austrian and Russian. The first named comes almost entirely from India viâ Bunder Abbas; the Austrian viâ Quetta and the Russian from Meshed. The French sugar is the more popular. Crystallized sugar from India is also in demand. Sugar Candy (Kuja misri) commands a fair sale. It is used a great deal by opium smokers and sweet-meat makers.

Stationery.—Cheap quality only in demand. German make of different colour is preferred.

Spices.—Black pepper, cinnamon, and "haldi" (turmeric) more than other spices.

Leather goods.—Black shoes of cheap quality, ammunition boots. No demand for English saddlery.

Metals.—Iron in rods about ½ inch square is extensively used for making horse shoes.

Matches.—Swedish and Japanese sulphur matches command a very extensive sale.

Tobacco.—Egyptian cigarettes of cheap quality sell better than American and English Cigarettes, tobacco and papers command a good sale.

Miscellaneous.—Matches, (cheap quality only), Oilman stores, Snuff, Cutlery, Lungis, Candles, Bone Buttons, old uniforms and clothes, Indian Rice, American oil—all these command only a moderate sale; Russian kerosine oil from Meshed is universally used. It sells here at 9 krans (Rs. 2-9) per Seistani man (=13 lbs.).

The total value of Russian goods imported into Seistan was Rs. 22,143 or about £1,476.

Exports.—The chief exports of Seistan produce are;—Ghi, Wool, Feathers, Assafœtida, Melon seeds, Cotton.

From the statistics of the Customs Department 91 % of the total exports went to India by the Nushki route. Of these exports only 30 % were local produce and of this local produce 90 % was Ghi (clarified butter.)

The other (non-local) exports (70 %) merely passed through Seistan from Meshed and other places and consisted mainly of horses, mules, silks.

A small quantity of Russian mole-skin cloth called "Chikan Mahout" was exported to India, being taken there by camel men and not by local traders.

Ghi.—The main industry of Seistan is the manufacture of Ghi. It is produced locally in the following districts:—(1) Miankangi and Seistan proper (2) Lower Seistan (3) Naizar. It is also imported from the region South of Seistan and the Sarhad, and from Afghan territory.

Miankangi lies to the North and East of Seistan; Lower Seistan to the South-East; and the Naizar North-West of Seistan.

It is estimated that the total amount of Ghi capable of being produced locally is 32,863 Indian maunds or about 1,174 tons. This estimate is based on the total number of sheep and cows in Seistan, which again has been calculated from the amount of grazing tax paid annually to the local Government. This is exclusive of the Ghi imported into Seistan, which is estimated at about 536 tons.

The price of Ghi varies according to the time of year it is bought. The most favourable time to buy is in May. Money is advanced freely here by local traders for the purchase of Ghi months before-hand. The buying price of Ghi for the year under report was from 8 to 12 krans (Rs. 2-1 to Rs. 3-7 per Seistani man, =13 lbs.) or about 3*d* to 4*d* per lb.

Ghi is exported to Quetta, Bunder Abbas, Kirman and Kain.

Wool. The months of April and October are the best for buying wool. In April the flocks leave Seistan for the hills; in October they return. The amount of wool capable of being produced in Seistan is estimated at 1,339 tons. This is based on the number of sheep (said to be 404,000) which pay grazing tax annually. The price of wool locally varies from 9*s.* 4*d.* to 37*s.* 4*d.* per cwt. The Seistan wind fills the local wool with a great quantity of dirt, and it is said to require a lot of cleaning.

Feathers. The Seistani feathers are much sought after and command a good price in Meshed and other parts of Persia. The trade is in the hands of certain Sayads who lease the Naizar, or reed swamps, to the North-West of Seistan which in the winter months abound in wild fowl. There are two qualities, viz., the picked and unpicked. The latter quality contains much dirt and large and small feathers are mixed together. The former consists of down and the finer feathers.

Melon seeds.—These are exported in large quantities to Kirman.

Openings for trade in Seistan. As stated above there is not much opening for trade on a large scale in Seistan itself. The small Indian trader, however, does a lucrative business. There are already six Indian Merchants in Seistan. A year ago there was but one. Three of these merchants have already acquired land and built their own shops. All, except two, act as Agents for their head firms in Meshed and Birjand. One merchant has built a line of six shops with a travellers' caravansarai attached, on the best site in Seistan. These shops will be available for hire. A firm of Shikarpuri Hindus also exists and is doing a prosperous trade. They have built their own shop, and a small guest house. The above facts are brought to notice to show that every facility exists for the Indian trader—no matter what his caste may be—to come to Seistan. He has nothing to fear from the desert country now bridged over by the Nushki route, and when he reaches Seistan he will find a community of his fellow and caste country-men to give him a welcome. The idea that Seistan is a place to be avoided on account of its lack of civilised institutions is one which has no doubt acted hitherto as a deterrent to Indian traders.

It is hoped that the above remarks may tend to disabuse their minds of this idea.

The Indian trader, however, at present works at a slight disadvantage in Seistan. In spite of the excellent organisation of the Customs Department, the Seistani trader seems to be able to evade the Customs cordon on the Afghan-Seistan border to the North-East of Seistan and to pass by a shorter route through Afghan territory to Nushki. He returns by the same way. The Indian merchant passing by the prescribed route pays import and export dues. In addition to this the Seistani generally owns his own transport and has no cost of transport to pay. There is every hope, however, that, with the rapid development of the Customs organisation, the Seistani trader will soon find himself deprived of the advantage above referred to.

Facilities for transport into the interior from Seistan: — It is difficult to get camel transport in Seistan, and mules do not exist.

The local camel, obtainable in small numbers only, is the small Baluch type which carries an average weight of 3½ Indian maunds (280 lbs.)

Caravans from India, therefore, destined for Khorasan should, if possible, engage Quetta camels for the through journey and not rely on a change of transport in Seistan. The latter also if procurable, would mean adjusting the 5-maund load of the Indian camel to suit the smaller and inferior Baluchi animal. In the Kainat it is easier to get transport. It is also easier to obtain transport in the spring and autumn than in the summer and winter for the Khorasan market.

Climate.—The climate of Seistan is dry and healthy. The heat in the summer is often terrific, but is generally tempered by the Seistan wind which blows for 120 days. The hot weather lasts from May till the middle of September. The hottest months are generally May and September. The admirable qualities of the drinking water of Seistan which comes from the Helmund River are renowned. Good drinking water can also generally be found 10 feet below the surface of the ground.

In the winter the climate is bracing and cold. Last winter the thermometer once fell to zero; but this is said to be exceptional. Yet among the ruined towns in the vicinity traces of ancient ice pits are to be seen.

Wages.—The Seistani is a very good labourer. Before the advent of European Consulates in Seistan, no fixed scale of wages existed. The scale of wages now obtaining is—

For Labourers—Adults . . .	6 Shahis or about 3*d*. per day
For Masons and skilled workmen . .	2 to 4 krans or about 9*d*. to 1-6*d* per day.

Boys are paid somewhat less.

Brickmakers charge from 1¼ to 2 krans per 1,000 for sun-dried bricks, or about 7*d*. to 9*d*. per 1,000. Building with sun-dried bricks is cheap and in summer a labourer works from 8 to 9 hours a day.

Land can be purchased without difficulty. The present price is 5 krans (Re. 1-1-0) per Persian zueh (about 41 inches).

Agriculture.—Land in Seistan is the property of the Crown. The local Governor appoints Katkhudas or headmen of villages who pay certain sums of money for the appointment. The land of each village is divided into "pagaos." The land which can be ploughed by two oxen in a year is called a "pagao." The distribution of "pagaos" among the villagers rests with the Katkhuda.

The following crops are produced in Seistan: Wheat, Barley, Mash (a kind of Dal), Jowari (maize), Cotton, Opium, Tobacco, Melons.

Wheat, Barley and Opium are sown from about the end of August to October. Barley and Opium are reaped about the beginning of April and Wheat about the end of that month. Cotton is sown in the beginning of June and reaped in the beginning of September.

The out-put of wheat, barley is about 2 to 1.

The surplus grain is exported to the following places: Kain, Sarhad, Narmashir and Kirman. The other local crops are generally consumed locally with the exception of Melon seeds which command a good price in Kirman.

The "threshing-floor" is divided as under:—

Government share	⅓
Cultivator's „	⅔

The cultivator has to give a certain amount of his share to the following:—

The Headman of the village, Patwari, crop-watchers, corn thresher, Governor's Agent, Ironsmith, Carpenters, etc.

The approximate revenue of Seistan for the past year is said to have been 65,000 tomans or about £10,762.

Average price Current for the past year.

	R	as.
Barley	0	10	(10*d*.) per maund	(8 lbs.)
Wheat	0	15	(1*s*-3*d*.) „	(„)
Flour	1	8	(2*s*.) „	(„)	i.e. about 1½*d*. for lbs.

	R	a.	p.
Fowls	0	2	4	(2*d*. to 4*d*.) each.
Sheep	3	8	0	to [illegible] 8 0 (4*s* [illegible]d. to 7*s* 4*d*.) each.

Trades and Manufactures.—Blacksmiths, Carpenters, Weavers, Potters, Shoemakers, Numdah hat-makers, Dyers, Mat-makers, etc., are to be found in Seistan; but their work is of a somewhat crude type.

Weavers are of two kinds, viz., Carpet weavers, who are generally Baluchi women, and coarse cloth weavers who are Seistanis proper. The number of carpets made in Seistan annually is stated to be about 6,000. They are of a much coarser quality than the Birjand and Meshed carpets.

There are very few permanent shoe-makers in Seistan. Those to be found are generally itinerant Kainis.

The Persian Customs Department.—The Persian Customs Department in Seistan came under European supervision in May of the year under report. The new fixed tariff, an ad valorem duty of 5% on all imports and exports did not find favour with the Seistani traders, with whom anything in the way of supervision and organisation was something entirely new, while the payment of an import as well as an export duty was regarded as a distinct injustice. To a certain extent this feeling prevented many local Seistani traders from going to Quetta. Our Indian merchants very soon fell in with the new arrangements. All custom dues have to be paid and original invoices produced in Seistan at the capital Nasratabad. No verification or payment of dues is demanded before reaching the capital. Caravans are escorted from the first Customs post on leaving British territory as far as the capital.

The importation of the following is strictly forbidden :—

Firearms, Ammunition, Aniline dyes, Books or photographs of an obscene nature.

There are as yet no Russian traders in Seistan, though a few Agents for the sale of Russian prints, cloths, sugar and ironware exist. It will be seen from the accompanying tables that about 7 per cent. of the goods imported into Seistan for local consumption were Russian manufactures, while Indian goods imported came to about 80 per cent.

Birjand Imports.—Of the Indian merchandise imported into Birjand, 60 per cent. reached there by the Bunder Abbas route, while only 11½ per cent. came by the Nuskhi route, 15½ per cent. came from Meshed (mostly Russian prints, kerosine oil, mole-skin), and 9 per cent. from Afghanistan.

Birjand Exports.—Of the merchandise exported from Birjand about 80 per cent. went to Meshed (mostly carpets, Indian cotton cloth) 19 per cent. went to India and about 1 per cent. to Afghanistan. During the year under report the import and export trade with Afghanistan is said to have very greatly fallen off. This is said to have been due to the unwillingness of the Afghan traders to adopt the new customs organisation.

9 per cent. viâ Nushki.
10 per cent. viâ Bunder Abbas.

Ghi is produced in small quantities in the Kainat, mainly in the following places—Julga-i-Tabbas, Awaz, Dorch, and Lanoh. By far the greater amount is said to be produced from the Governor of Birjand's own sheep.

The price of Ghi in Birjand was, for the year under report, Rs. 20 per Indian maund (80lbs.) or about 4*d*. per lb.

Wool.—No wool is allowed to be exported from Kain, it being all reserved for the local Carpet manufacture.

Kandil.—This is a local product which is said to command an excellent sale in Karachi. It is a kind of pitch or resinous gum much used for ships.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 22nd January 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

There has again been very little rain over the greater part of India, but as was the case last week, the weather has been feebly disturbed over the central parts of the country where a shallow depression formed and thence travelled eastward through the Satpuras and Bengal. In consequence of this depression rain was received at Ranchi and Hazaribagh on the 16th, at Chaibassa, Ranchi and Balasore on the 17th, at Saugor Island, Calcutta, Burdwan, Chaibassa, Ranchi, Hazaribagh and Balasore on the 18th, at Saugor Island, Jessore, Dibrugarh, Sambalpur, Chaibassa and Balasore on the 19th, and at Barisal, Saugor Island, Calcutta, Sambalpur and Balasore on the 20th. This rainfall was generally light or moderate, but falls of over 1 inch in 24 hours were recorded during this period at Dibrugarh, Ranchi, Balasore and Sambalpur. The weather has been disturbed during the week over Persia, Baluchistan and Kashmir, and light rain or snow has been frequently received over these areas, but has not at any time extended into North-West India. Light showers were reported along the East Coast on the 23rd, but with this exception the only rainfall received over India throughout the week was that over Bengal and the East Satpuras between the 16th and the 20th.

The following table shows that rain was confined during the week to Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley, the Burdwan sub-division, the Simla sub-division, Baluchistan, the Ranchi sub-division, the Madura sub-division and the two divisions of the East Coast; the total amounts received were unimportant except in the Calcutta, Cuttack and Ranchi sub-divisions, where the normal rainfall was exceeded. Except in these sub-divisions, the weather was actually or practically rainless throughout the week.

The seasonal excess has been increased in the Burdwan, Calcutta, Cuttack and Ranchi sub-divisions and the seasonal deficiency has been increased over North-West and Central India, but otherwise there has been nominating change in the seasonal condition of rainfall.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 17th January, 1903.

Madras.—No rain. Irrigation supplies are generally sufficient except in parts of Ganjam, Anantapur, and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally in fair condition. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have generally fallen, but in some districts they are stationary or have risen for certain grains.

Bombay.—There was no rain during the week. More rain is needed in parts of Sukkur and Thar and Parkar. The harvesting of the autumn crops is completed in Ahmedabad, is almost over in Sholapur and Kanara, and continues in parts of Surat, Khandesh, and Belgaum. Threshing is almost completed in Colaba and continues in parts of Larkana, Hyderabad, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parkar, the Deccan and Dharwar. Spring sowing still continues in parts of Belgaum and Kanara. The standing crops have been damaged by rats, locusts, or insects in parts of Hyderabad, Ahmedabad, and Nasik; by cloudy weather in parts of Karachi, the Upper Sindh Frontier, Broach and Dharwar; and by the recent rainfall in parts of Broach and Sholapur. They are also suffering from insufficient moisture in parts of Hyderabad and the Upper Sindh Frontier but are generally in good condition elsewhere. Cotton is in good condition in Ahmedabad, parts of Broach and Wadhwan; in fair condition in parts of Satara, Belgaum and Dharwar; but is slightly damaged by cloudy weather or recent rainfall in parts of Broach, Surat, Bijapur, and Dharwar. Picking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Broach and Baroda. The fodder-supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is in good condition and is generally sufficient. The water-supply is adequate. Prices have fallen in three districts, risen in four districts, and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1902 remains substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food-grain in pounds per rupee at head-quarters were:—Ahmedabad 38, Bijapur 48.

The daily average numbers on relief were:—BRITISH DISTRICTS:—In poor-houses, 89; on village relief, 1,069; total, 1,158.

Bengal.—Light showers are reported from Chota Nagpur and all the Divisions of Bengal proper, except Rajshahi and from the districts of Gya, Sonthal Parganas, Cuttack and Balasore. Rain is still needed for the standing crops in Nadia, Pabna, Patna, Gya, Champaran, Darbhanga, Monghyr and Sonthal Parganas. Prospects are generally good. The harvesting of winter rice is approaching completion; threshing is in progress. Poppy is promising. There is no want of fodder and water. The price of common rice has risen in nine districts, fallen in ten and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—A few cents of rain fell in four districts, but more is generally required. The irrigation of the spring crops and the pressing of sugarcane are in progress. Poppy is flourishing and is being weeded in places. Slight damage has been caused by frost to the standing crops in a few districts, but prospects are otherwise favourable. Supplies and fodder are ample. Prices continue to show a tendency to rise.

Punjab.—Rainfall nil. The sowing of spring crops is finished. Sugarcane is being pressed in Jullundur and Amritsar. The condition and prospects of the spring crop are generally good on irrigated lands. The crops on dry lands are withering for want of rain and throughout the province rain is now badly wanted. The sugarcane crop has suffered from frost in Jullundur, Amritsar and Sialkot. Crops are being damaged by caterpillars in parts of Ferozepore; and by white-ants in parts of Mianwali. Locusts have appeard in parts of Mooltan and are doing some damage to the crops. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts, except Amritsar, Sialkot, Mianwali, and Mooltan. Sugarcane is being used as fodder in Sialkot. The prices of food-grains are generally rising in Umballa, Jullundur, Amritsar, Shahpur, Rawalpindi, Mianwali and Mooltan.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week. The weather is now cloudy and promises rain which is badly wanted everywhere. The condition of irrigated crops is average, but unirrigated crops are beginning to wither away. The stocks of food-grains are sufficient. Fodder is procurable, but is scarce and dear. The canals are running well in Peshawar. Prices are rising owing to the rains holding off and to the large exports to Afghanistan where famine rates are prevailing. Prices:—Wheat $13\frac{7}{16}$ and $13\frac{1}{2}$, gram $16\frac{1}{4}$ and $18\frac{1}{2}$, maize $17\frac{3}{4}$ and 20 seers, per rupee in Peshawar and Dera Ismail Khan, respectively.

Burma.—Rainfall nil. In Lower Burma reaping of paddy is approaching completion, and threshing and winnowing are general. Crops are threshing out very light in Tharrawaddy and in Myaungmya. One-sixth of the crops have failed owing to the want of rain and the estimate is reported to be below normal in most districts. In Upper Burma the reaping of main paddy is still going on. Threshing is progressing in the Ruby Mines district and Yamethin. Reaping of sesamum is completed in Lower Chindwin. The standing crops are generally fair. In Pakokku crops on high lands are failing for want of rain and in Minbu crop failures are reported to be fairly numerous. The price of paddy has risen slightly in five and fallen in four districts.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been cloudy. There was no rain except 3 cents in Wardha and 9 cents in Narshinghpur. The harvesting and threshing of autumn crops are practically completed, but the harvesting of juar (giant millet) and other minor crops and picking of cotton continue in a few districts. The winter crops are generally in good condition, but the cloudy weather and insects have caused some damage in most districts to crops other than wheat and linseed. The damage by frost to til in Narsinghpur varies from 30 to 90 per cent. and in Hoshangabad to 75 per cent. Tur (Cajan pea) has been seriously damaged in most districts by frost and fungoid disease; in Jubbulpore the late sown wheat on light soil requires rain. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices have slightly fluctuated. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are:—wheat 18; gram 20: rice 17½; and juar 29. The highest prices are:—wheat 10; gram 10; rice 8¾; and juar 18¼. In Raipur the numbers on relief works were as follows:—relief workers (Public Works Department), adults 13,986; children 2,229; total 16,215. In poor-houses:—adults 33; children 19; total 52. On gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved):—adults 3,159; children 1,320; total 4,479. Total on all forms of relief 20,746. The number of Public Works Department Camps open is 11.

Assam.—Rain has fallen in the Surma Valley and Upper Assam. More rain is wanted for the standing crops in Sylhet. Harvesting of late rice is nearly finished. Pruning of tea; pressing of sugarcane; and gathering of mustard and pulse are in progress. The outturn of late rice and sugarcane is generally fair, except in Nowgong and parts of Kamrup; of pulse it is poor in Nowgong, elsewhere fair to good. The prospects of mustard are good in Sylhet; fair in Darrang and Sibsagar; but poor in other districts. Fodder is scarce in places. Water is insufficient in the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—common rice—Silchar, Sylhet, and Tezpur 14; Gauhati 13; Dhubri, Nowgong, and Sibsagar 12, and Dibrugarh 11½ seers, per rupee.

Mysore.—General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg.—The rice harvest and picking of coffee continue. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool and cloudy. Cotton-picking and reaping of juar continue. The winter crops are growing satisfactorily, except wheat, tur, and gram which are being damaged by insects in parts of three districts. Preparation of land for the monsoon crops is in progress in parts of two districts. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of juar has risen in the Jalgaon taluq; elsewhere it is almost steady.

Hyderabad.—There was no rain during week. The autumn harvest continues in a few talukas. The early rice harvest is nearing completion. The standing spring crops are in fairly good condition and the harvest has begun in some talukas. The winter rice sowings continue. Prices—wheat 7½; rice 8¼; and juar 25½ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana.—Agricultural operations and standing crops remain as reported last week. Cotton has been injured by frost in Kishengarh and Kotah. The condition of cattle is good Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food-grain in seers per rupee was—Kotah 36; the highest price—Sirohi 14¼. Six hundred and fifty persons are on gratuitous relief in Marwar.

Central India.—No rain fell durieg the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. The crops are generally good but have been slightiy injured by frost in parts of Gwalior, Baghelkhand and Dhar. Agricultural stock and pasturage are good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundlekhand, normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand and lew in Malwa. Average prices:—26 to 38¼ in Gwalior, 33$\frac{5}{16}$ in Bhopal, 20 to 27¼ in Bundelkhand, 33 in Malwa, and 32 to 40 in Bhopal. The condition of opium is fair in Gwalior and Bhopal and good in Malwa. Operations are in progress in Bhopawar.

Kashmir.—The weather was bright and chilly except on the last day of the week when skies were heavily clouded. There has been very little snow. Prices are stationary.

JAMMU.—Rainfall nil. Prices are rising. Wheat is selling from 13 to 20; and maize 20 to 26 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is unsatisfactory. Fodder is growing scarce. Rain is badly wanted.

Nepal.—Rainfall nil. The weather is frosty and very cold. The standing crop of wheat is doing well. The price of rice is 8½ seers for the rupee.

RESOLUTION.

PUBLIC.

The 30th January 1903.

No. 201—207.—The need of an Imperial Library in India which should be open to the use of the public has for some time past engaged the attention of the Governor General in Council, who has been impressed by the limited character of the facilities for research which are available to the student in this country. The Imperial Library in the Civil Secretariat Buildings at Calcutta, formed a few years ago from the different Departmental Libraries, has proved of some service in this direction, and the marked increase in recent years in the number of persons making use of it affords satisfactory evidence of the appreciation which would be extended to an institution worthy of the name of an Imperial Library. With the approval of the Secretary of State the Governor General in Council has accordingly decided to establish such a library at Calcutta, a suitable building has recently been acquired for its accommodation, and the books and shelves of the Calcutta Public Library which had long ceased to fulfil the intentions of its founders have been purchased from the proprietors. These arrangements were confirmed and validated by the Imperial Library Act, 1902 (I of 1902). The existing Imperial Library will form the nucleus of the new institution, which will be provided with Reading Rooms, public and private, as at the British Museum and Bodleian Libraries It is intended that it should be a library of reference, a working place for students, and a repository of material for the future historians of India, in which, so far as possible, every work written about India at any time can be seen and read.

2. The Rules appended to this Resolution have been framed to give effect to the views of the Government of India in establishing the library. The control of the institution will remain with the Government of India, but its internal management will be delegated to a Council, with the Librarian as its Secretary, and His Excellency the Governor General in Council has been pleased to appoint the following gentlemen to be the first members of this body :—

The Honourable Mr. T. Raleigh, C.S.I.	Chairman.
The Honourable Mr. Justice Gooroo Dass Banerjee . . The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department Mr. M. Finucane, C.S I, Commissioner, Presidency Division	Members.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the officers named above and to the Government of Bengal and the High Court, Calcutta, for information.

Ordered, also, that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

IMPERIAL LIBRARY RULES.

I. The Library will be open to any person who holds a reading ticket issued to him by the Librarian in accordance with such regulations as may from time to time be made by the Council.

II. Reading tickets will not be issued to any person under 18 years of age. They will remain in force until cancelled by the Council and will not be transferable. Any person who infringes these rules or any regulations made by the Council for the internal management of the Library will be liable to have his ticket suspended by the Librarian pending a reference to the Council.

III. Subject to the provisions of rule IV, no book or other document shall be taken out by any person except with the permission of the Libarian to be given in accordance with any general or special orders made by the Council in this behalf.

IV. Any of the proprietors of the former Calcutta Public Library shall be entitled, when resident in Calcutta, to take out books from among those transferred from that Library to the Imperial Library, subject to the restriction that he shall not take out more than six works (up to a limit of 12 volumes) at a time.

V. Books and other documents that have been taken out are liable to recall at any time; but if not so recalled they may be kept for a space of one month, which may be extended by the Libraian at his discretion.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to empower District Judges in certain cases to grant probates of wills and letters of administration having effect throughout British India. As the law at present stands, probates and letters of administration having effect throughout British India can be granted only by a High Court or a Chief Court, and this restriction has been felt to be a hardship to the relatives of persons dying in up-country stations. It is proposed therefore to attach to the grant of probate or letters of administration by a District Judge the same territorial currency as that which is attached to a grant made by a High Court or Chief Court, but subject to the restrictions (1) that the deceased at the time of his death had his fixed place of abode situate within the jurisdiction of the District Judge, and (2) that the Judge certifies that the value of the property affected, beyond the limits of his Province, does not exceed ten thousand rupees.

2. Sufficient safeguards against injustice resulting from the proposed legislation appear to be afforded by section 263 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865 (X of 1865), and section 86 of the Probate and Administration Act, 1881 (Act V of 1881), under which every order made by a District Judge in the matter of probate or administration is appealable to the High Court; and also by the fact that a grant of probate merely perfects the representative title of an executor to the property which belonged to the deceased and over which the testator had a disposing power, but does not confer any title to property which the testator had no right to dispose of.

The maximum rates at which the dues may be levied are specified in the schedule annexed to the Bill, and are subject to reconsideration. The rates at which the dues will be levied will be fixed by the Government, subject to these maxima as ultimately settled, and will be so fixed from time to time as to meet the interest on capital outlay, maintenance charges, and a small sinking fund charge.

The procedure clauses of the Bill are based on the provisions of the Burma Coast-lights Act, 1879 (IX of 1879).

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 29th January 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The weather over India has been much more disturbed during the week under review than for many weeks past. A large double storm appeared over the North-West Frontier on the 22nd and 23rd and thence the disturbed conditions drifted slowly eastward across Northern India, occasioning snow on the hills and rain over the plains. Over the West Himalayan region general rain was received from the 23rd to the 26th, when it fell off and only light scattered showers were reported on the 27th and 28th. In the West Gangetic Plain there was general light rain on the 25th and light scattered showers on the 23rd, 24th, 26th and 27th. In the North-West Dry Area showers were reported on the 23rd, 24th, 26th and 27th. Advancing eastward, rain commenced in the East Himalayan region on the 24th and continued to fall lightly during the 25th and 26th, when it practically ceased. It commenced in the East Gangetic Plain on the 26th and continued during the 27th, while in Assam and Bengal the fall began on the 27th and continued during the 28th and 29th. The central parts of India, the Peninsula and Burma were practically unaffected by these unsettled conditions, though scattered light showers were received in the Central India Plateau on the 24th and 25th, and Chaibassa, Hazaribagh and False Point reported light showers on the 27th and 28th.

In Persia the weather was unsettled and rainy throughout the week and in Kashmir, so far as information has been received, moderately heavy snow has fallen.

The following table shows the amount of the week's rainfall in the different divisions and sub-divisions. Rain averaging 0·1 inch or more in amount was received during the week over Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley, the East Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas, the Patna sub-division, the West Himalayas and Sub-Himalayas, the West Gangetic Plain, the North-West Dry Area, Baluchistan, the Jaipur sub-division, the Calicut sub-division and the Madura sub-division, the average actual rainfall ranging from 2·67 inches in the Simla sub-division to 0·10 inch in the Jaipur and Calicut sub-divisions. Over the remainder of India the weather has been actually or practically rainless. During the week the rainfall has been in marked excess of the normal in the Bahraich, Simla and Ludhiana sub-divisions, and has been about normal or below the normal elsewhere.

The week's rainfall has, to a certain extent, diminished the seasonal deficiency existing over Northern India, more especially in the Simla and Ludhiana sub-divisions, but a considerable defect still prevails in the seasonal rainfall over the greater part of Burma, Assam, Northern India and the Central India Plateau.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 24th January, 1903.

Madras.—Rainfall practically nil. Irrigation supplies are sufficient except in parts of Ganjam and Salem. Ploughing, sowing and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have generally fallen, but in some districts are stationary or have slightly risen for certain grains.

Bombay.—Slight rain fell during the week in parts of Sindh and Ahmednagar. The standing crops have been slightly damaged by rats or insects in parts of Nasik and Ahmedabad, by frost and insufficient moisture in parts of Upper Sindh, from cloudy weather in parts of Dharwar and Ahmedabad, and by recent rainfall in parts of Thar and Parkar, and are generally in good condition elsewhere. Harvesting of autumn crops has been completed in Ahmedabad, is almost over in Sholapur and continues in parts of Larkana, Kaira, Surat, Khandesh and Dharwar. Threshing has been nearly completed in Colaba and Kanara, and continues in parts of the Upper Sindh Frontier, Thar and Parakar, Nasik, Ahmednagar, Poona, Satara, Belgaum and Dharwar. Spring sowing still continues in parts of Belgaum and Kanara. The cotton crop is in good condition in Wadhwan and in parts of Ahmedabad, Broach and Dharwar; in fair condition in parts of Satara, and in poor condition in parts of Bijapur, and has been damaged by cloudy weather in parts of Ahmedabad, Broach, Surat and Dharwar. Picking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Broach, Belgaum and Baroda. The fodder supply is sufficient except in parts of Larkana. Agricultural stock is in good condition and generally sufficient. The water-supply is adequate. Prices have fallen in four districts, risen in three districts and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of the prices of principal staples to normal and to prices of 1902 remains substantially unaltered. The prices of the cheapest food-grain in pounds per rupee at head-quarters, were:—Ahmedabad 38 and Bijapur 48.

The daily average numbers on relief were:—BRITISH DISTRICTS:—In poor house, 75 on village relief 813; total 888.

Bengal.—Light showers are reported from Orissa and a few districts of Bengal, and also from the districts of Saran, Purnea and Manbhum. The standing crops require rain in the districts of Nadia, Pabna, Patna, Gaya, Champaran, Darbhanga, Malda and Sonthal Parganas. Prospects are generally good. In some districts harvesting of winter rice still continues. Threshing is going on. Poppy is doing well. In some districts preparation of lands for early rice and jute has commenced. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in seven districts, fallen in five and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—Rain has fallen in thirty-two districts and has greatly benefitted the standing crops. Rain is needed in Etawah, Unao, Allahabad and Banda and more in the districts of Aligarh, Shahjahanpur, Jhansi and Hamirpur. The irrigation and weeding of spring crops and the pressing of sugarcane continue. The poppy crop continues in good condition. Wheat and barley are coming into ear, and gram, arhar, peas and mustard are flowering in places. Crops have been slightly damaged in a few districts by frost, but prospects on the whole have improved. Supplies and fodder are sufficient and prices are stationary.

Punjab.—Good rain has fallen in the Jullundur district and in parts of Umballa, Lahore, Sialkot and Rawalpindi. A slight fall is also reported from some other districts. Sugarcane is being pressed in Jullundur and Amritsar. The condition and prospects of standing crops are generally good on irrigated and average on unirrigated lands which have benefitted from the recent rainfall. Crops are, however, still suffering from want of rain in some districts and more rain is generally wanted. Caterpillars have caused some damage in parts of Ferozepur and locusts in parts of the Mooltan district. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except in parts of Ferozepur, Lahore, Amritsar, Sialkot, Mianwali and Mooltan. Sugarcane is being used as fodder in Sialkot. The price of wheat has slightly fallen in Jullundur, Amritsar and Rawalpindi, and is rising in Umballa, Lahore and Shahpore. The prices of the other food grains are generally unchanged.

North-West Frontier Province.—There has been general rain during the week, averaging over an inch in Peshawar, three inches in Hazara and over half an inch in Bannu and Kohat. Prospects have much improved in all these districts. In Dera Ismail Khan the rainfall was slight and more is badly wanted. Locusts appeared in Dera Ismail Khan but passed on without doing any damage. Fodder is procurable but is scarce and dear. Canals are running well in Peshawar. Prices have risen in Dera Ismail Khan, but fallen in Peshawar. Much snow has fallen on the hills adjacent to Peshawar.

Burma.—Rainfall nil. Reaping of paddy is almost over in Lower Burma. Winter harvest operations continue in Upper Burma and dry weather paddy is being sown. Standing crops on alluvial lands are in good condition. The winter harvest in Upper Burma is poor as previously reported. The price of paddy has risen in Rangoon, Pegu, Thongwa, Mergui and very rapidly in Bassein and has fallen in Katha. Minbu expects a decrease in land revenue of R80,000.

Central Provinces.—No rain has fallen. The picking of cotton and threshing of juar (Giant millet) and other minor crops are approaching completion. Winter crops are generally in good condition, but have suffered in some parts from the continued cloudy weather, insects and fungoid diseases. Damage to linseed, peas and pulses is reported from Betul, Chhindwara, Chanda, Bhandara, Raipur and Bilaspur. The arhar (Cajan Pea) crop is reported to be quite destroyed in Betul. Rain is required for wheat on light soils in Jubbulpore. The harvesting of linseed has commenced in Nagpur and of some minor winter crops in Balaghat and Raipur. Fodder and water are generally ample. Prices have fluctuated slightly with a tendency to rise in Hoshangabad. The price of rice has risen in Chanda. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are:—wheat 17; gram 22½; rice 17½; and juar 28. The highest prices are: wheat 10; gram 12½; rice 9; and juar 18½. In Raipur the numbers on relief works were as follows:—relief workers—Public Works Department—adults 15,868; children 2,401; total 18,269. Poor houses—adults 35; children 19; total 54. On gratuitous relief—otherwise relieved—adults 3,203; children 1,328; total 4,531. Total on all forms of relief 22,854. The number of Public Works Department camps open is 11.

Assam.—Light showers fell in Sylhet, Goalpara, Sibsagar, and the Khasi and Jaintia hills. More rain is wanted in Sylhet. Harvesting of late rice is finished everywhere except Darrang. Its outturn is generally fair except in Nowgong. Hoeing and pruning of tea, pressing of sugarcane, and gathering of mustard and pulse are in progress. The outturn of sugarcane is generally fair except in Cachar, Nowgong and Kamrup; the outturn of pulse is poor in Goalpara and Nowgong, but elsewhere it is fair to good. Prospects of mustard are fair in Sylhet, Darrang and Sibsagar, but poor in other districts. Ploughing for rice and jute is in progress. Fodder is insufficient in parts of Cachar and the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia hills. Water is scarce in the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia hills. Prices:—common rice—Tezpur 16; Silchar and Sylhet 14; Gauhati 13; Dhubri, Nowgong and Sibsagar 12 and Dibrugarh 11½ seers per rupee.

Mysore.—General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg.—Rice harvest and picking of coffee continue. Prices of food-grains are stationary. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool. Cutting of juar and picking of cotton are well advanced. Winter crops are in fair condition. Gram has been attacked by insects in three taluqs. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices are almost steady.

Hyderabad.—Rainfall during the week was one cent. The autumn harvest is nearly over. The early rice harvest is approaching completion. The standing spring crops are fairly good, but insects and rats are causing injury in parts. The spring harvest has generally begun in most places. Winter rice sowings are nearing completion. Prices—wheat 7⅛; rice 8⅞; and juar 25½ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana.—A few cents of rain fell in Bikanir, Jhallawar, Bhartpur and Ajmer-Merwara and showers in Alwar. Spring cultivation is in progress. Standing crops are fair to good. Crops have been injured by frost in Mewar. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food-grains in seers per rupee was — in Kotah 36 and the highest price in Sirohi 14½. 650 persons are on gratuitous relief in Marwar.

Central India.—Slight showers fell in Baghelkhand, but none elsewhere. Agricultural operations are in progress in all Agencies. The standing crops are generally good, but have been slightly damaged by frost in Baghelkhand. Agricultural stock and pasturage are in good condition. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand; normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand; and low in Malwa. Average prices: 22-6 to 39-5 in Gwalior; 33-3 in Bhopal; 21 to 20 in Bundelkhand; 32 in Malwa; 36 to 40½ in Bhopawar; and 10 to 36 in Indore. Opium is fair in Gwalior and Bhopal and good in Malwa. Operations are in progress in Bhopawar and Indore.

Kashmir.— Weather is cloudy, chilly and snowy. Prices are stationary. JAMMU.—Slight rainfall is reported from parts. Prices are generally stationary. Wheat sells from 12 to 20½ and maize from 18 to 24 seers the rupee. The condition of the standing crops is not promising. Fodder is generally insufficient. The recent rains have done some good and prospect seems favourable.

Nepal.—There was no rain during the week. The weather has been cloudy, foggy and colder than it should be. The price of rice is 8¼ seers for the rupee.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 5th February 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The weather has been feebly disturbed over North-West India during the week under review. A slight storm entered North-West India on January 30th and a second but very feeble storm appeared over the Indus Valley on February 3rd. The first storm gave light showers to parts of the North-West Dry Area and of the West Gangetic Plain, and general rain and snow to the West Himalayas on the 30th and 31st. After the 31st the rain ceased, except on the hills, where light snow continued to fall until February 2nd. The largest amounts reported during this period were 0·90 inch at Chakrata, 0·85 inch at Mussooree and 0·57 inch at Simla. The second storm gave light snow on the 4th and 5th to Kashmir and the Simla and Murree Hills, but occasioned no rain on the plains.

On January 30th rain began to fall in Orissa and on the 31st a depression was shown over the head of the Bay. This storm passed eastward into the Bay and during its existence rain was received as follows :—on the 30th at Cuttack and False Point, on the 31st at Chittagong, Barisal, Saugor Island, Jessore, Balasore, False Point and Cuttack, and on the 1st at Bhamo, Chittagong and Barisal. Light local showers were also received during the week in the Upper Assam Valley and in Tenasserim. In Persia the weather was fine throughout the week.

The following table shows the amount of the week's rainfall in the different divisions of India. Rain averaging 0·1 inch or more in amount was received during the week over the Burma Coast, Bengal, the Simla sub-division, the Lahore sub-division, Baluchistan and the Cuttack sub-division, while the remainder of India was actually or practically rainless. The week's rainfall was in excess over the Burma Coast, Bengal and the Cuttack sub-division. The average actual rainfall of the Narayanganj sub-division exceeded 1 inch and the seasonal variation for that area has changed largely, but in other parts of the country the seasonal condition is practically unaltered.

"London Gazette," dated the 20th January 1903, pages 385 and 390.

War Office, January 20, 1903.

The King has been graciously pleased to signify His intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross on the undermentioned officer, whose claims have been submitted for His Majesty's approval, for conspicuous bravery in Somaliland, as stated against his name :—

Corps.	Name.	Act of Courage for which recommended.
1st (Central Africa) Battalion, King's African Rifles.	Captain (local Lieutenant-Colonel) A. S. Cobbe, D.S.O., Indian Army.	During the action at Erego, on 6th October 1902, while some of the Companies had retired, Lieutenant-Colonel Cobbe was left by himself in front of the line, with a Maxim gun. Without assistance he brought in the Maxim, and worked it at a most critical time. He then went out under an extremely hot fire from the enemy about 20 yards in front of him, and from his own men (who had retired) about the same distance behind, and succeeded in carrying in a wounded Orderly. Colonel Swayne, who was in command of the Force, personally witnessed this officer's conduct, which he describes as most gallant.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 12th February 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

The weather has been quiet over India during the week under review. No storm of any consequence has appeared over the Indian area and the only rainfall reported has occurred as light scattered showers. Thus, on the 6th light rain was reported from Tavoy, Allahabad, Jubbulpore, Seoni and Chanda; on the 7th from Mergui, Dhubri, Allahabad and Lucknow; on the 9th from Toungoo, Dibrugarh and Sibsagar; on the 11th from Colombo, Trincomalee, Dibrugarh and Sibsagar and on the 12th from Mussooree, Chakrata, Simla, Murree, Cherat, Dera Ismail Khan, Colombo, Trincomalee and Tinnevelly, while on the 8th and 10th there was no rain over India.

The following table shows that appreciable rain, amounting to 0·10 inch or more, was received during the week over the Burma Coast, the Brahmaputra Valley, Baluchistan and the East Coast (South) divisions and the Calicut sub-division, but that over the whole of the remainder of India the weather during the week was actually or practically rainless.

This practically rainless week has increased the seasonal deficiency prevailing over Northern and North-Western India and the Central India Plateau and diminished the seasonal excess prevailing over other parts of India.

Fodder is sufficient in all districts except in Mianwali and Lahore, and in parts of Ferozepore, Amritsar and Mooltan. Sugarcane is being used as fodder in the Amritsar district. The price of wheat is rising in Hissar, Amballa, Jullundur and Amritsar; falling in Lahore, Shahpur and Rawalpindi. The prices of other food-grains are also rising slightly in some districts.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week and it is now badly wanted, especially in Dera Ismail Khan. The prospects of the standing crops so far are good, but depend upon more rain. Fodder is procurable. Canals are running well in Peshawar. Prices show a tendency to rise.

Burma.—Rainfall nil. Threshing and winnowing of paddy are still in progress. Ploughing for early wet weather paddy has commenced in Mandalay. Transplanting of dry weather paddy is completed in parts. The standing miscellaneous crops are fair. The price of paddy has fallen in Mandalay and Thayetmyo, and risen in Yamethin, Pakokku, Amherst, Akyab, Bassein, Henzada and Myaungmya.

Central Provinces.—Light showers of rain have fallen in the interior of the Mandla district; elsewhere there was no rain, but it has occasionally been cloudy. The winter crops are generally in good condition. Last week's rain was beneficial to the crops in the Sihora and Murwara tahsils of the Jubbulpore district, but more was wanted. Some damage to wheat, gram and linseed by insects and cloudy weather is reported from Chanda, Balaghat and Raipur. Rust has appeared in few villages in the Damoh tahsil. The harvesting of the winter crops is in progress in places. Fodder and water are generally ample. Prices have fluctuated slightly. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat 18, gram 22, rice 17, and juar 28. The highest prices are—wheat 10, gram 12½, rice 8½, and juar 17¾. In Raipur the numbers on relief works were as follows:—Relief workers—(Public Works Department)—adults 20,070, children 3,157, total 23,227. In poor houses—adults 30, children 23, total 53. On gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved)—adults 3,491, children 1,482, total 4,973. Total on all forms of relief 28,253. The number of Public Works Department Camps open is 11.

Assam.—Light showers have fallen in Upper Assam. Rain is wanted in Sylhet. Hoeing and pruning of tea, pressing of sugarcane, gathering of mustard and pulse, and ploughing for rice and jute are in progress. The outturn of sugarcane is good in Lakhimpur, bad in Cachar, Kamrup and Nowgong, and fair in other districts. Of pulse the outturn is fair except in Cachar and Nowgong. Prospects of mustard are fair in Sylhet and Sibsagar, but poor in other districts. Fodder is insufficient in parts of Cachar and the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Water is scarce in the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—common rice—Tezpur 16, Silchar and Sylhet 14, Gauhati 13, Dhubri and Sibsagar 12, and Nowgong and Dibrugarh 11½ seers per rupee.

Mysore.—General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Cattle are healthy except in parts of Kadur. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg.—Threshing of rice continues. Prices of food grains are normal. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool. Harvesting of juar and picking of cotton are completed in the Akola district, elsewhere they still continue. The winter crops are in good condition except in the Basim and Chikhli taluqs where they are being damaged by rats and insects. Land is being prepared for monsoon crops in five districts. Fodder and water are sufficient. There has been a fall in the price of rice and wheat in the Akola taluq, and of juar in the Ellichpur and Kelapur taluqs. Elsewhere prices are stationary.

Hyderabad.—There was no rain during the week. The standing spring crops are generally in good condition. Insects are causing injury to crops in parts. The spring harvest is in progress. Winter rice sowings continue. Prices—wheat 7½, rice 9, and juari 25¾, seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana.—There was slight rain in parts of Bikanir, Jaisalmer and Alwar. Spring cultivation is progressing. The standing crops are fair in Ajmer-Merwara and good elsewhere. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food grains in seers per rupee was—in Jhalawar 34-12, and the highest price in Sirohi 13¼. Six hundred and thirty-one persons are on gratuitous relief in Marwar.

Central India.—Light showers fell in parts of Gwalior and Baghelkhand during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. Crops are generally in good condition, but have been damaged by frost in parts of Baghelkhand. Agricultural stock and pasturage are generally good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa. Average prices—26-15 to 38-5 in Gwalior, 33-6 in Bhopal, 21½ to 28½ in Bundelkhand, 31 in Malwa, 35 to 41½ in Bhopawar, and 9¾ to 36 in Indore. Opium is fair in Gwalior and Bhopal and good in Malwa. Operations are in progress in Bhopawar and Indore.

Kashmir.—The weather is bright and chilly. Snow has fallen on the surrounding hills. Prices are stationary.—JAMMU.—No rain. Prices are falling. Wheat is selling from 13 to 21, and maize from 20 to 34 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is good. Fodder is sufficient.

Nepal.—There was no rain during the week. The weather has been cloudy and cold. The price of rice is 8½ seers for the rupee.

Section 2 was partially repealed by the Repealing Act, 1874 (XVI of 1874), and a further partial repeal is proposed in Schedule III to the present Bill. If the latter repeal be effected, section 2 will refer only to one Regulation, namely, Ben. Reg. V of 1799. Hence the proposed amendment in section 3.
1828	III	Land-revenue Assessment (Resumed Lands).	In section 10, clauses Second and Third, for Boards substitute the Board.	There is now only one Board of Revenue in Bengal.

These amendments follow upon the proposal to repeal part of the title and section 1 of this Regulation (see Schedule III, post).
			In sections 12 and 13, for Boards substitute Board.	There is now only one Board of Revenue in Bengal.
			In section 16, the words Governor General in Council shall be read as if the words Local Government were substituted therefor.	See paragraph 3 of the Statement of Objects and Reasons.
		Part II.—Acts of the Governor General in Council.
1836	XXI	Districts . . .	The words the Governor General in Council by an Order in Council shall be read as if the words the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, by notification in the local official Gazette were substituted therefor.	See paragraph 3 of the Statement of Objects and Reasons. Cf. the first proposed amendment in Ben. THE SECOND SCHEDULE—contd.

1 Year	2 No.	3 Subject or short title.	4 Amendments.	5 REMARKS.
		Part II.—Acts of the Governor General in Council—contd.
1859	XI	Land-revenue Sales.—contd.	In section 32, for section 25 substitute section 2 of the Bengal Land-revenue Sales Act, 1868.	Section 25 of Act XI of 1859 was repealed by section 29 of Ben. Act VII of 1868 and re-enacted (with amendments) in section 2 of the latter Act.
			In section 33, for section 25 of this Act substitute section 2 of the Bengal Land-revenue Sales Act, 1868.	The title mentioned in column 4, opposite, is that which it is proposed in Schedule I to give to Ben. Act VII of 1868.
"	XII	Calcutta Pilots . .	In sections 2 and 18, for the words Superintendent of Marine, wherever they occur, substitute Port Officer.	There is now no "Superintendent of Marine". [Rule 1 of the Rules made under section 20 of the Act ought to be similarly amended.]
1861	V	The Police Act, 1861 .	In section 34, after imprisonment insert with or without hard labour.	The "imprisonment" referred to in this section is simple imprisonment, but in most cases rigorous imprisonment would be more suitable to the offence and to the offender, and this amendment will admit of rigorous imprisonment being awarded in such cases.
1867	III	The Public Gambling Act, 1867.	In the title, for the Central Provinces and British Burma substitute and the Central Provinces. In the preamble, for of the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces and of the Chief Commissioner of British Burma, substitute and of the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.	Act III of 1867 has ceased to be operative in Burma—see the Burma Gambling Act, 1899 (Burma Act I of 1899), section 2.
			In section 1, for the definition of Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner substitute the following, namely:— "Lieutenant-Governor" means the Lieutenant-Governor of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh or of the Punjab, as the case may be. "Chief Commissioner" means the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces or of the North-West Frontier Province, as the case may be.	This amendment is consequential upon (1) the repeal of Act III of 1867 in Burma, (2) the recent change in the designation of the Lieutenant-Governor of the United Provinces, and (3) the separation of the North-West Frontier Province from the Punjab.
1872	XV	The Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872.	In section 82, for certificates of marriages, and also for marriage certificates, substitute certificates for marriage.	The language of the section is misleading, and the proposed amendments follow that of sections 71 and 72.
			In Schedule II, after declaration insert or oath.	This amendment will bring the Schedule into harmony with section 41.
1878	XII	Laws, Punjab (amending Act IV of 1872).	In section 2, for 18 substitute 16.	Sections 17 and 18 of the Punjab Laws Act, 1872 (IV of 1872), have been repealed by the Punjab Laws Act Amendment Act, 1895 (VII of 1895), section 3.

1	2	3	4	5
Year.	No.	Subject or short title.	Amendments.	REMARKS.
		Part II.—Acts of the Governor General in Council—contd.
1879	XIV	The Hackney Carriage Act, 1879.	In section 3, for The Lieutenant-Governors of the North-Western Provinces and the Punjab and the Chief Commissioners of Oudh, the Central Provinces, British Burma, substitute The Lieutenant-Governors of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab and Burma, and the Chief Commissioner of the Central Provinces.	Consequential upon recent changes in designations in the United Provinces and Burma.
"	XVIII	The Legal Practitioners Act, 1879.	In section 42 (added by the Legal Practitioners Act, 1884, section 9), before the words and figures Act I of 1846 insert So much of Chapter VI of Bombay Regulation II of 1827 as has not been repealed.	This amendment will enable the Government of Bombay to repeal Bombay Regulation II of 1827, Chapter VI, if and when it extends the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879, or any portion thereof to the Bombay Presidency.
1881	XIII	The Fort William Act, 1881.	In section 1, for Army Discipline and Regulation Act, 1879, substitute Army Act.	The Act of 1879 has been repealed and re-enacted by the Army Act (44 & 45 Vict., c. 58).
			In section 5, for Presidency Magistrates Act, 1877, substitute Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898; and for the High Courts Criminal Procedure Act, 1875, section 147, substitute section 526 of that Code. In section 7, for Magistrates appointed under the Presidency Magistrates Act, 1877, substitute Presidency Magistrates.	The Presidency Magistrates Act, 1877 (IV of 1877), was repealed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882 (Act X of 1882), and the new Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) does not carry on these references to the Act of 1877. The High Courts Criminal Procedure Act, 1875 (X of 1875), was repealed by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and the opportunity is here taken to substitute for the reference to section 147 of the Act of 1875 a reference to the corresponding section (526) of the new Code.
1889	V	The Coroners (Madras) Act, 1889.	In the preamble, and in section 4, sub-section (2), as amended by the Repealing and Amending Act, 1891, for the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, substitute the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.	The Code of Criminal Procedure 1882 (X of 1882), has been repealed and re-enacted by the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (V of 1898).
"	XIII	The Cantonments Act, 1889.	In section 6, sub-section (1), for in the case of a cantonment for which such a committee has not been constituted, substitute where a cantonment committee has not been constituted, or has in pursuance of an order of the Local Government ceased to exist, or for any reason cannot be convened, then, subject to any rules made under section 26, clause (5).	This will bring section 6 (1) into harmony with section 26 (5). The difference between the language of the two has given rise to inconvenient doubts in practice.
1897	X	The General Clauses Act, 1897.	In section 3, clauses (5), (6), (30) and (35), after under insert the Indian Councils Act, 1861, or.	This is to cover Acts of local legislatures passed under the Statute of 1861 before the Statute of 1892 was enacted by Parliament.

1 Year.	2 No.	3 Subject or short title.	4 Amendments.	5 REMARKS.
		Part II.—Acts of the Governor General in Council—contd.
1897	X	The General Clauses Act, 1897—contd.	In section 3, after clause (8), insert the following:— (8a) "Burma Act" shall mean an Act made by the Lieutenant-Governor of Burma in Council under the Indian Councils Acts, 1861 and 1892:.	A local legislature was established in Burma in 1897, but after the passing of the General Clauses Act, 1897.
			In section 3, after clause (44), insert the following:— (44a) "Punjab Act" shall mean an Act made by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab in Council under the Indian Councils Acts, 1861 and 1892:.	A local legislature was established in the Punjab in 1897, but after the passing of the General Clauses Act, 1897.
			In section 3, after clause (55), insert the following:— (55a) "United Provinces Act" shall mean an Act made by the Lieutenant-Governor of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh (or of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh) in Council under the Indian Councils Act, 1861, or the Indian Councils Acts, 1861 and 1892:.	Consequential upon the recent change in designation in the United Provinces.
			In section 20, before the word order, in each of the places in which it occurs, insert notification.	This is to make it clear that notifications are "orders" within the meaning of the section.
			In section 21, for make substitute issue notifications, between the words any and orders insert notifications, and for made substitute issued.	Ditto.
			In section 24, before the word order, in each of the places in which it occurs, insert appointment, notification; and before the word issued, in each of the places in which it occurs, insert made or.	This is to obviate any doubt as to whether the provision covers appointments made and notifications issued under a provision repealed and re-enacted. Cf. section 25 of the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899 (Ben. Act I of 1899), and the amendments thereof proposed post.
1898	V	The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.	In section 260, sub-section (1), clause (i), after 451 insert 453, 454.	Offences punishable under sections 451, 456 and 457 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), were included in the list of offences triable summarily when the Code was last revised. It is anomalous that the cognate, though less grave, offences under sections 453 and 454 should not also be so triable.
			In section 555 for 553 substitute 554.	Clerical error corrected.

1	2	3	4	5
Year.	No.	Subject or short title.	Amendments.	REMARKS.
		Part II.—Acts of the Governor General in Council—concld.
1898	V	The Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898—contd.	In the second schedule, column 5, against section 195, for Bailable substitute Not bailable.	Offences punishable under section 195 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) were non-bailable under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882 (Act X of 1882). They appear to have been inadvertently made bailable in the present Code, and it is proposed to correct the slip.
			In the second schedule, column 8, against section 506, for Ditto substitute Presidency Magistrate or Magistrate of the first or second class.	In the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882 (Act X of 1882), offences punishable under section 505 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) were triable by Magistrates of the first or second class, and the first entry in the schedule opposite section 506 followed on the same lines. The terms of the new section 505 of the Indian Penal Code substituted by Act IV of 1898, section 6, were such as to render it expedient to restrict to first class Magistrates the trial of offences thereunder. But it was never intended to extend the restriction to the less serious offences under section 506, and it is proposed to correct the slip.
			In the heading to the fifth schedule, for 554 substitute 555.	Clerical error corrected.
			In the fifth schedule, Form IV, for within days from this date substitute on the day of .	This is to rectify a discrepancy between the provisions of section 87 of the Code and the language used in the form prescribed under that section.
			In the fifth schedule, Forms XIII and XIV, for the passage from comply where it occurs for the second time to released, substitute be lawfully ordered to be released.	These forms were reproduced from the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882 (Act X of 1882), but the fact that section 123, sub-section (4), had been amended was apparently overlooked. It is proposed to remove the discrepancy between the section and the forms.
1900	III	The Prisoners Act, 1900.	For section 29 substitute the following :— 29. (1) The Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, provide for the removal of any prisoner confined in a prison— [Removal of prisoners.] (a) under sentence of death, or (b) under, or in lieu of, a sentence of imprisonment or transportation, or (c) in default of payment of a fine, or (d) in default of giving security for keeping the peace or for maintaining good behaviour, to any other prison in British India. (2) The Local Government, and (subject to its orders and under its control) the Inspector-General of Prisons may, in like manner, provide for the removal of any prisoner confined as aforesaid in a prison in the Province to any other prison in the Province.	The existing provisions of section 31 necessitate a reference to the Government of India in each case of transfer from one Province to another. This is in practice most inconvenient, nor is it necessary. It is proposed to repeal section 31—see Schedule III, post—and to substitute here a more elastic provision.

1 Year.	2 No.	3 Subject or short title.	4 Amendments.	5 REMARKS.
			Part III.—Bengal Acts.
1862	VI	Rent	In section 14, for the said Act substitute Act X of 1859,	Follows on the repeal of the first part of section 14 suggested in Schedule III, post.
			and for section VII of Act I of 1846 substitute section 27 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879.	Act I of 1846 has been repealed in Bengal by the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), section 42 [added by the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1884 (IX of 1884), section 9]. It seems doubtful whether the last paragraph of section 2 of Act XVIII of 1879 governs the subsequently added section 42, and it is proposed to make this amendment in order to remove the doubt.
1865	VII	Slaughter-houses and Meat-markets.	In section I, for the jurisdiction of the Municipal Commissioners of the Suburbs of the Town of Calcutta appointed under the provisions of Act III of 1864 passed by the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in Council (the District Municipal Improvement Act), substitute any limits to which this section has heretofore been, or may hereafter be, extended by notification under section 9.	Ben. Act VII of 1865 was repealed in the Suburbs of Calcutta by the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876 (Ben. Act IV of 1876), and is now applicable only to "towns and places" to which it has been, or may hereafter be, extended by notification under section 9. The word "limits" is used in the proposed amendment because it is used in sections 1, 3 and 4 of the Act of 1865.
1866	IV	The Calcutta Police Act, 1866.	In section 25, for such officer substitute officer of the Police Force.	Necessitated by the repeal of section 24 of Ben. Act IV of 1866 by the Presidency Magistrates Act, 1877 (IV of 1877).
			In section 33, for the Articles of War for Her Majesty's Army or Her Majesty's Navy or for the native officers or soldiers in Her Majesty's Indian Army, substitute the Naval Discipline Act, the Army Act or the Indian Articles of War.	These several Articles of War are now contained in the Naval Discipline Act (29 & 30 Vict., c. 109), the Army Act (44 & 45 Vict. c. 58), and the Indian Articles of War (Act V of 1869), respectively.
			In section 95, for the words this Act, in the second place in which they occur, substitute sections 64 and 67 to 70 of the Indian Penal Code and sections 386, 387 and 389 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.	Necessitated by the repeal of section 93 of Ben. Act IV of 1866 by the Presidency Magistrates Act, 1877 (IV of 1877).
1867	IV	Rent (Appeals) . . .	In section 5, for the said recited Acts substitute the Bengal Rent Act, 1859, or the Bengal Rent Act, 1862.	This amendment follows on the repeal proposed in Schedule III, post, of the earlier parts of Ben. Act IV of 1867. The titles mentioned in column 4, opposite, are those which it is proposed (in Schedule I, ante) to give to Act X of 1859 and Ben. Act VI of 1862, respectively.
1869	I	Cruelty to Animals .	In section 9, for the said Act II of 1866 substitute Ben. Act II of 1866.	Section 8, in which Ben. Act II of 1866 was mentioned, was repealed by the Repealing Act, 1873 (XII of 1873).

1 Year.	2 No.	3 Subject or short title.	4 Amendments.	5 REMARKS.
		Part III.—Bengal Acts—contd.
1876	III	The Bengal Irrigation Act, 1876.	In section 95, for as a demand under section 1 of the aforesaid Ben. Act VII of 1868 substitute under the procedure provided by the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895, for the recovery of public demands.	The portion of section 1 of Ben. Act VII of 1868 to which this clause refers was repealed by the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880 (Ben. Act VII of 1880), and the reference is not carried on by the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1895 (Ben. Act I of 1895).
1880	IX	The Cess Act, 1880	In section 29, Example B, for rate substitute ratio.	Clerical error corrected.
1884	II	Amendment of the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880.	In the preamble, for the words and figures situate within the local limits of the town as defined in the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876, substitute subject to the authority of the Corporation of Calcutta. In section 3, for the words and figures in Calcutta but situate beyond the local limits of the town as defined in the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876, substitute in those portions of Calcutta, as defined in the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, which are not subject to the authority of the Corporation of Calcutta, and for the words and figures within the local limits of the town as defined by the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876, substitute within the area subject to their authority. In section 4, for the words and figures outside the limits of the town as defined by the Calcutta Municiphl Consolidation Act, 1876, substitute outside the area subject to their authority.	When Ben. Act II of 1884 was passed, the Corporation of Calcutta had authority only within the town proper, and not within the suburbs of Calcutta (see Ben. Act IV of 1876). By Ben. Act II of 1888 (which repealed and re-enacted Ben. Act IV of 1876) the authority of the Corporation was extended to the suburbs. The Corporation exercise over the Tramway lines in the suburbs the jurisdiction conferred upon them by the Calcutta Tramways Act, 1880 (Ben. Act I of 1880); and they may be considered to be justified in doing so by the facts— (1) that the Act of 1888 extended the general authority of the Corporation to the suburbs, (2) that the Act of 1888 directed that references to the Act of 1876 should be deemed to be made to the later Act, and (3) that the word used in section 2 of Ben. Act II of 1884 is "includes", not "means". But it is considered desirable to make the point clear by amending the Act of 1884 in the manner indicated in column 4, and by repealing section 2 (see Schedule III, post). The Act of 1899, referred to in column 4, is the present Calcutta Municipal Act, which repealed and re-enacted the Act of 1888. The proposed amendments will leave to the Local Government the powers which alone it is necessary to reserve to it, namely, powers of control over such parts of the Tramway as lie on the Calcutta Maidan.
1885	III	The Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885.	In section 45, for such district substitute any district in which this Act is in force.	The word "such", as used in the section, is meaningless.
			In the reference to section 9 of Bengal Act IX of 1880 in the second Schedule for 111, substitute 109.	The amendment made by Ben. Act II of 1881, section 1, seems to have been overlooked when the Schedule was drawn.

THE SECOND SCHEDULE—concld.

		Part III.—Bengal Acts*—concld.
1887	IV	The Chittagong Port Commissioners Act, 1887.	In section 39, clause (b), for 32 substitute 34.	The reference should obviously be to section 34, not to section 32, which does not mention liens.
1890	II	Vaccination (amending Bengal Act V of 1880).	In sections 2 and 3, after Suburbs insert of Calcutta.	The omission of these words was an oversight—cf. the preamble and section 1 of the Bengal Vaccination Act, 1880 (Ben. Act V of 1880), as amended by sections 2 and 3 of Ben. Act II of 1890.
"	III	The Calcutta Port Act, 1890.	In section 30, for the three next succeeding sections, and in section 34 for any of the three last preceding sections, substitute section 31, section 32 or section 33.	Necessitated by the insertion, by section 3 of Ben. Act IV of 1895, of a new section (32A) after section 32.
			In section 94, for vessels substitute vessel.	Clerical error corrected.
1894	IV	Municipalities . .	In section 34, for Municipality substitute Municipalities.	Clerical error corrected.
1899	I	The Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899.	In section 3, clause (6), after under insert the Indian Councils Act, 1861, or.	This amendment will prevent doubts as to whether sections 14, 16, 17, 21, 22 and 26 of Ben. Act I of 1899 apply to Acts made before the year 1892.
			In section 25, before the word order, wherever it occurs, insert the word appointment, and before the word issued, wherever it occurs, insert the words made or.	These amendments will remove doubts which have been raised as to whether section 25 includes appointments. Cf. the proviso to section 5 of the North-West Frontier Province Law and Justice Regulation, 1901 (VII of 1901).
		Part IV.—Burma Act.
1898	I	The Burma General Clauses Act, 1898.	In section 20, before the word order, in each of the places in which it occurs, insert notification.	These amendments follow those proposed ante, in sections 20, 21 and 24 of the General Clauses Act, 1897 (X of 1897).
			In section 21, for make substitute issue notifications, between the words any and orders insert notifications, and for made substitute issued.
			In section 24, before the word order, in each of the places in which it occurs, insert appointment, notification; and before the word issued, in each of the places in which it occurs, insert made or.
		Part V.—Regulation made under the Government of India Act, 1870 (33 & 34 Vict., c. 3).
1874	IX	The Arakan Hill District Laws Regulation, 1874.	In the first column of the schedule, for II of 1857 substitute XI of 1857.	Clerical error corrected.

Year.	No.	Subject or short title.	Extent of repeal.	REMARKS.
		Part I.—Regulations of the Bengal Code—contd.
1794	III	Native Revenue-officers—contd.	In section 16, the words a balance of accounts, or money or, the words the payment of the money or, the words the amount of the money or, the words money or, the words discharge the money or, the words the sum demanded of him shall be discharged or,	These words were repealed in effect but not specifically, by the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880 (Ben. Act VII of 1880) [see the note immediately above]. Their express repeal is necessary in order to admit of their being left out of the section when reprinted for the new edition of the Bengal Code.
			and the words from The Collector is authorised likewise to arrears of revenue.	These words relate to the attachment and sale of property to make good "the sum which may be due." They were in effect repealed by the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880 (Ben. 			In section 17, the words money or. In section 18, the words money or, the words balance or, and the words that no part, or a portion only, of the sum demanded was due from him, or. 			Section 19	Section 19 relates only to the recovery of public money. It was in reality repealed entirely by the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880 (Ben. Act VII of 1880), although that Act purported to repeal only part of the section.

The Bengal Regulations as to the jurisdiction of the Court of Wards have all been repealed, the Bengal law on the subject being now contained in Ben Act IX of 1879 and amending Acts.

Section 62 of Ben. Reg. VIII of 1793, mentioned in it, was repealed by Ben. Reg. XII of 1817.
			the words and figures in pursuance of clause fourth of section LXII, Regulation VIII, 1793, or of any other Regulation, the words under the process prescribed in clause eighth of the above section and Regulation,	Section 62 of Ben. Reg. VIII of 1793 having been repealed, it is unnecessary to retain these references.
			and the words and figures from Moreover, nothing in this Regulation is meant to supersede the rules contained in section LXII, Regulation VIII, 1793, to the end of the section.	This portion of section 8 was repealed in vague terms by section 2 of Ben. Reg. XII of 1817, which was enacted for certain districts and was afterwards extended to the rest of Bengal by Ben. Reg. I of 1819, section 4 (2). It is accordingly printed in italics on page 559 of Volume I of Clarke's Bengal Regulations, Ed. 1854, but is printed in the Bengal Code, Volume I, 1889, pages 71-72, as if it were unrepealed. It is practically superseded by sections 27 and 30 of Ben. Reg. XII of 1817, and might now be specifically repealed. Section 62 of Ben. Reg. VIII of 1793 (referred to in the clauses which it is now proposed to repeal) was repealed by Ben. Regs. XII of 1817 and I of 1819.

1805	XII	Land-revenue, Cuttack—contd.		Section 7 fixed a period, which has long since expired, for the delivery of pattas. It is spent. The section has already been repealed by the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (VIII of 1885), but that repeal does not run throughout Bengal. Section 8 relates to endowments for the temple of Juggannath, for Matths in the vicinity of that temple, and for other similar purposes. It is obsolete. Section 9 relates to rents appropriated for the support of police. It is obsolete. Sections 10 and 11 are superseded by the Land Registration Act, 1876 (Ben. Act VII of 1876).
			In section 31, the words and figures from and the rules contained in Regulation XXVII, 1793, to the end.	Obsolete, Ben. Reg. XXVII of 1793 having been repealed by Act XXIX of 1871.
"	XIII	Police, Cuttack	In the title, the words and figures and for amending certain provisions contained in Regulation IV, 1804.	Obsolete, Ben. Reg. IV of 1804 having been repealed by the Repealing Act, 1868 (VIII of 1868).

[The words "bridges, sarais and kattras" in section 2 of Ben. Reg. XIX of 1810, should be retained in the Statute-book, as that section refers to "general superintendence" and not to "maintenance and repairs," and section 16 of Ben. Reg. XVII of 1816 stated expressly that the "general superintendence" of the Boards was to continue].

THE THIRD SCHEDULE—concld.

Part VII.—Regulations made under the Government of India Act, 1870 (33 & 34 Vict., c. 3)—concld.

Year.	No.	Subject or short title.	Extent of repeal.	Remarks.
[illegible]	I	The Angul District Regulation, 1894—contd.	So much of section 3, sub-section (1), and the schedule as relates to the following Acts, namely:—
			Act XII of 1890 (Tariff);	It is unnecessary to retain [illegible] Act in this schedule. It mer[illegible] amended the Indian Tariff Act, [illegible] (XI of 1882), which is not [illegible] in the Schedule. The [illegible] has since been repea[illegible] the Indian Tariff Act, [illegible] of 1894), and the Act of [illegible] also been repealed (except [illegible]) by the same Act.
			Bengal Act II of 1864 (Jails); and	This Act is repealed by [illegible] Act, 1894 (IX of 189[illegible]), which has been declared (see [illegible] Gazette, 1901, Pt. I, p. [illegible]) to be in force in Angul.
			Bengal Act V of 1867 (General Clauses).	This Act is repealed by [illegible] General Clauses Act, [illegible] (Beng. Act I of 1899), which has been declared (see Calcutta Gazette, 1899, Pt. I, p. 1064) to be in force in Angul.
			In section 3, sub-section (2), the words or to have been, the words shall have been expressly extended thereto or, and the word so.	It has been ascertained that all enactments in force in the Angul District, which were expressly extended thereto before the commencement of Regulation I of [illegible], have either been (1) superseded there by later enactments, or (2) included in the schedule annexed to that Regulation. The words proposed for repeal have therefore become obsolete, and their retention would be likely to raise doubts, which the Regulation was intended to avoid, as to what enactments are in force in Angul.
			Section 3, sub-section (2), proviso.	Validation clause. Spent.
			In column 1 of Part II of the schedule, in the entry relating to Act X of 1873 (Oaths), the words and figures (except the first sentence of section 16).	The insertion of these words and figures seems to have been an oversight, since section 16 of the Indian Oaths Act, 18[illegible] (X of 1873), contains only one sentence.
1899	III	The Southál Parganas Justice and Laws Regulation, 1899.	In section 1, the word and and sub-section (2).	Commencement clause. Spent.
1900	I	The Chittagong Hill-tracts Regulation, 1900.	Section 20 . . .	Repealing clause. Spent.
[illegible]	III	The Sonthál Parganas Rural Police Regulation, 1900.	In section 1, the words and figure and (2) It shall come into force at once.	Commencement clause. Spent.
1901	VII	The North-West Frontier Province Law and Justice Regulation, 1901.	So much of Part I of the first Schedule as relates to section 31 of the Prisoners Act, 1900.	The amendment of Act III of 1900 proposed in Schedule II, ante, will render this provision in the Regulation unnecessary.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

T[illegible] been prepared in order to [illegible] y for the [illegible]ation of a new edition of the Bengal Code, i.e., the compil[illegible] enactm[illegible] in force in the Province of Bengal which is published under the [illegible] of the G[illegible]ment of India.

[illegible] xcept as regards the matter mentioned hereafter in paragraphs 3 and [illegible] repe[illegible] d amendments proposed are purely formal and involve nothing of sub[illegible]. Each [illegible] em is explained by the remark concerning it inserted in the fifth column [illegible] appr[illegible] te schedule—a column which will, of course, be removed before the [illegible] pass[illegible]. In some cases enactments in force in Provinces other than Bengal are deal[illegible] in th[illegible] hedules, and in others Acts of universal application are affected; but in [illegible] the [illegible] is confined to the enactments to be included in the new edition of the [illegible] Cod[illegible]. The opportunity has, in accordance with the later practice, been taken [illegible] [illegible] s to many enactments which have not so far been provided therewith.

[illegible] he enactments passed before a Lieutenant-Governor was appointed for [illegible] [illegible] preme executive powers in the Governor General in Council. It is considere[illegible] [illegible] ers might now, in many cases, be formally transferred to the Local Governm[illegible] [illegible] of Revenue, and it is proposed to make this change by the present Bill [illegible] which the change is proposed are distinguished by the words "See parag[illegible] [illegible] tement of Objects and Reasons" inserted in column 5 of Schedules II and [illegible]

[illegible] he opportunity afforded by the present Bill has been taken to make [illegible] [illegible] ve amendments, namely, those appearing in Schedule II opposite the Police [illegible] of 1861), the Cantonments Act, 1889 (XIII of 1889), and the Prisoners Act, [illegible] [illegible] oo).

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 a.m. on Thursday, the 19th February 1903, based on the India Daily Weather Reports of the period.

During the week under review the weather has been slightly to moderately disturbed over Northern India, but has been fine and settled in the centre and south. Between the 13th and 16th a shallow depression passed from the United Provinces into North-East India. It occasioned showers over the Delta of Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley, the East Gangetic Plain, the East Himalayas and the East Satpuras on the 14th, 15th and 16th. The largest amounts in 24 hours during this disturbed period were: 2·90 inches at Narayanganj, 1·95 inches at Jessore, 1·96 inches at Barisal and 0·88 inch at Jalpaiguri on the 15th, the amounts recorded on the 14th and 16th having been light.

Light falls of rain and snow were received in the Simla and Mussooree hills on the 15th. On the 16th a feeble storm appeared over North-West India travelling from the westward; it passed through South Rajputana on the 17th and the Central Provinces on the 18th. It was accompanied with showers over the Himalayan divisions, the Gangetic Plain, the Central India Plateau, the East Satpuras, Bengal and the East Coast (North), the heaviest of which were 2·19 inches at Saugor Island and 1·96 inches at Balasore on the 18th, and 0·73 inch at Raipur and 0·85 inch at Hazaribagh on the 19th. In addition to the above, there have been showers in Baluchistan during the week and local showers at Wellington, Cochin and Tinnevelly.

The following table shows that useful rain, averaging 0·10 inch or more in amount, was received during the week in the Delta of Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley and the East Coast (North) divisions and in the Dinajpur, Burdwan, Simla, Ranchi, Raipur, Indore, Calicut and Madura sub-divisions, the average actual rainfall for the week ranging from 1·02 inches in the Narayanganj sub-division and 0·95 inch in the Burdwan sub-division to 0·10 inch in the Indore sub-division. Over the remainder of India the weather during the week was actually or practically rainless. The week's rainfall was more or less in excess of the normal over Bengal, the Brahmaputra Valley and the East Coast (North) divisions and over the Dinajpur, Burdwan, Raipur, Jaipur, Indore and Calicut sub-divisions; the excess was more than half an inch over the Narayanganj, Calcutta and Burdwan sub-divisions.

The rainfall of the season is in general excess over the Peninsula, Bengal and the Burma Coast and in general defect over Upper India.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the Week ending Saturday, the 14th February, 1903.

Madras.—The rainfall of the week was fair in Tinnevelly, but practically nil elsewhere. Irrigation supplies are insufficient in parts of Ganjam, the Deccan and Salem. Ploughing, sowing, and transplanting continue in parts. The standing crops are generally fair. Harvests continue with fair outturn. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. The condition of cattle is good. Prices have risen in parts of the Carnatic and Central districts, but have fallen or are stationary elsewhere.

Bombay.—There was no rain during the week. Rain is needed in parts of Sukkur and Larkana. The standing crops have been slightly damaged by locusts in parts of Hyderabad; by rats or insects in parts of Ahmedabad and Nasik; and by frost in parts of Sukkur, Hyderabad, and Ahmedabad, and are generally in good condition elsewhere. The harvesting of autumn crops has been completed in Belgaum, and continues in parts of Dharwar. Threshing is almost over in Larkana and Colaba, and is progressing in parts of the Upper Sind Frontier, Surat, Nasik, Ahmednagar, and Poona. Harvesting of spring crops continues in parts of Broach, the Deccan, Carnatic and Baroda. Cotton is in good condition in Bijapur, Wadwhan and parts of Surat and Dharwar, and in fair condition elsewhere. Picking continues in parts of Thar and Parkar, Broach, Belgaum and Rajkot. Lands are being prepared for next season in parts of Nasik, Satara and Belgaum. The fodder-supply is sufficient except in parts of Sukkur and Larkana. Agricultural stock is generally in good condition and sufficient. The water-supply is deficient in parts of the Upper Sind Frontier and Bijapur. Prices have fallen in four destricts; risen in one district; and are stationary elsewhere. The relation of prices of the principal staples to the normal and to prices of 1902 remains substantially unaltered.

Bengal.—Rain fell during the week in most of the districts of Bengal Proper and also in the districts of Malda, Sonthal Parganas, Puri, Ranchi, and Manbhum. The crops were slightly damaged by a hail-storm in Hooghly. Prospects are otherwise good, but rain is needed in Tippera, Patna, Champaran, Monghyr, and Malda. Lands are being prepared for rice and jute. Poppy is doing well. Sugarcane-pressing continues. Fodder and water are sufficient. The price of common rice has risen in seven districts, fallen in five, and is stationary in the remainder.

United Provinces.—The week was rainless over the provinces except in three districts where slight showers were recorded. Rain is said to be needed in Dehra Dum, Muttra, Agra, Budaon and Hamirpur. The irrigation and weeding of spring crops and poppy continue and cane pressing is in progress. Poppy is flowering in places. Wheat and barley are coming into ear, and peas, gram, mustard, and linseed are being harvested in parts. Slight damage from frost is reported in five districts. Prospects are generally favourable. Food stocks and fodder are sufficient. Prices continue generally stationary.

Punjab.—Slight rain has fallen in parts of Rawalpindi. Sugarcane is being pressed in Delhi, Jullundur, Lahore and Amritsar. Sowings of extra spring crops have commenced in some districts. The condition and prospects of the standing crops are generally good on irrigated lands. The crops on unirrigated lands are said to be poor and are withering for want of rain in some districts. Rain is badly wanted in most districts. Caterpillars have damaged the standing crops in parts of Ferozepur. Cattle are generally in good condition. Fodder is sufficient in all districts except Lahore, Sialkot, Shahpur, Mianwali, Mooltan and parts of Ferozepur and Amritsar. Sugarcane is being used as fodder in Amritsar. The price of wheat is falling slightly in Hissar and Umballa, and rising in Delhi, Jullundur, Amritsar and Rawalpindi. The prices of other food-grains are generally unchanged.

North-West Frontier Province.—There was no rain during the week except three cents at Dera Ismail Khan where more rain is badly wanted. The prospects of the standing crops are so far good, but depend upon more rain. Fodder is procurable, but is scarce in parts of Dera Ismail Khan. Canals are running well in Peshawar. Prices are steady.

Burma.—Rainfall practically nil. Threshing and winnowing of wet weather paddy is completed in some districts. Ploughing for early wet weather paddy and sesamum has commenced in Kyaukse. Transplanting of dry weather paddy still continues in parts. Harvesting of miscellaneous crops continues in Mandalay and Sagaing. The standing miscellaneous crops are fair except on islands in Myingyan and uplands in the Seikpyu township of Pakokku. Dry weather paddy plants in the Shwetchaung tract of Mandalay are suffering from want of irrigation. The price of paddy has fallen in two districts, and has risen in Mandalay, Yamethin, Bassein, Rangoon, Prome, and four other districts. Food stocks and fodder are reported to be insufficient in the Kyaukpadoung township of the Myingyan district.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been generally clear. The nights are cool, but the days are getting warm. The winter crops are generally in good condition, but cloudy weather and insects have caused some damage in Raipur. The winter crops are expected to give an average outturn of 90 per cent. in parts of Nagpur, of 75 to 100 per cent. in Mandla, while in Narsinghpur the outturn of wheat is estimated to be up to the normal. Slight damage by insects to gram is also reported from Chanda. The harvesting of the winter crops is in progress in places. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices have slightly fluctuated with tendency to rise in Hoshangabad and Chhindwara. The lowest prices in seers per rupee are—wheat 19, gram 22½, rice 17, and juar 30. The highest prices are—wheat 11, gram 12, rice 8, and juar 17½. In Raipur the number on relief works were as follows:—Relief workers (Public Works Department)—adults 20,938, children 3,280, total 24,218. In poor houses—adults 34, children 24, total 58. On gratuitous relief (otherwise relieved)—adults 4,004, children 1,755, total 5,759. Total on all forms of relief 30,035. The number of Public Works Department camps open is 11.

Assam.—Light rain has fallen in all districts. The standing crops in Sylhet have been benefited but more rain is still wanted. Hoeing and pruning of tea, pressing of sugarcane, gathering of mustard, and ploughing for rice and jute are in progress. The gathering of pulse is finished in the Assam Valley but still continues in the Surma Valley. The outturn of sugarcane is good in Lakhimpur, bad in Cachar, Kamrup and Nowgong, and fair in other districts. Of pulses the outturn is fair except in Cachar, Sylhet, and Nowgong. The outturn of mustard is fair in Sylhet, Darrang, and Sibsagar, but poor in other districts. Fodder is insufficient in parts of Cachar and the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Water is scarce in the Naga and Khasi and Jaintia Hills. Prices—common rice—Tezpur 16, Silchar and Sylhet 14, Gauhati 13, Dhubri and Sibsagar 12, and Nowgong and Dibrugarh 11½ seers per rupee.

Mysore.—General prospects are good. Prices are slightly fluctuating. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Coorg.—Threshing of rice continues. Prices of food-grains are normal. Water and fodder are sufficient.

Berar.—The weather is cool. Picking of cotton and cutting of juar has been completed except in parts of the Ellichpur district. The winter crops are in good condition except that rats and insects are doing damage in the Chikhli and Basim taluqs. Ploughing operations continue throughout the province. The fodder and water-supply is sufficient. Prices are generally stationary.

Hyderabad.—There was no rain during the week. The spring crops are generally good and are being harvested in parts. Insects and rats are causing damage to castor seed and other crops in parts. Other sowings are nearing completion. Prices—wheat 8, rice 9, and juar 25¾ seers per halli rupee.

Rajputana.—Spring cultivation is progressing. The standing crops are fair in Ajmer-Merwara and good elsewhere. Some damage to crops is reported from Kherwara, Kotah, and Ajmer-Merwara. The condition of cattle is good. Fodder is sufficient. The cheapest price of food-grains in seers per rupee was—Bundi 34-7, and the highest price—Sirohi 33 1/16. Six hundred and forty-five persons were on gratuitous relief in Merwar.

Central India.—No rain fell in Central India during the week. Agricultural operations are in progress everywhere. The crops are good in Gwalior, Bhopal, Malwa, and Bhopawar, and fair elsewhere. Agricultural stock and pasturage are generally good. Prices are steady in Gwalior and Bundelkhand, normal in Bhopal and Baghelkhand, and low in Malwa. Average prices—27-3 to 37 in Gwalior, 33-2 in Bhopal, 20½ to 27 in Bundelkhand, 31 in Malwa, 36 to 40½ in Bhopawar, and 9¾ to 35 in Indore. The opium crop is good in Gwalior and Malwa, fair in Bhopal. Operations are in progress in Bhopawar and Indore.

Kashmir.—The weather is slightly warmer and the intensity of cold is decreasing. There was some rain on the last day of the week and snow has also fallen. Prices are stationary.—JAMMU.—Rain slight. Prices are generally falling. Wheat is selling from 12½ to 19, and maize 20 to 38 seers per rupee. The condition of the standing crops is fair. Fodder is sufficient. From—The Right Honourable Lord GEORGE FRANCIS HAMILTON, G.C.S.I., His Majesty's Secretary of State for India,

To—His Excellency the Right Honourable the GOVERNOR GENERAL of India in Council.

With reference to the letter from your Government, No 34, dated 1st September 1896, I forward, for the consideration of Your Excellency in Council, an extract from a letter from the Secretary of the Society of Comparative Legislation enclosing papers* relating to the work and the extension of that Society.

* Copy of circular letter from Colonial Office to various Colonies, 21st August, with enclosures, sent by book-post.

Extract from letter from Secretary, Society of Comparative Legislation.

The enclosed circular has been kindly sent out by the Colonial Secretary with a view to extending the Society's sphere, and we have great hopes that it may lead to useful results: but that great field India still remains, and I am venturing now to write and ask you whether you think it possible that a similar course might be adopted for planting branches of the Society in different parts of India. There are many there to whom our work is, I know, of great interest.

Circular (1).

DOWNING STREET,

21st August 1902.

SIR,

I have the honour to transmit to you a copy of an address by the Society of Comparative Legislation to the representatives of the various Colonies in England, submitting proposals for the establishment in all parts of the Empire of Branch Societies or Committees with a view to a closer relationship for the interchange of ideas and information as to matters of legal importance and the promotion of unity of law and procedure so far as may be practicable.

2. I have to refer you to my Circular despatches of the 20th of July 1895 and 3rd October 1895, which were accompanied by papers showing the constitution of this Society, the objects for which it was formed, and the several points on which it desired information with regard to the laws and methods of legislation in the Colonies. You will observe that I have always heartily approved of the objects which the Society has in view, and that I am desirous of affording it every facility in my power. I enclose a copy of a memorandum which the Society has prepared containing suggestions as to the composition and duties of the Branches or Committees, which they are anxious should be established in the Colonies; and I should be glad if you would again bring the matter to the notice of your Ministers with a view to securing the co-operation of the Law Officers of the Colony in the manner suggested therein.

3. The following are the addresses of the Secretary of the Society and the Editor of its publications:—

John Macdonell, Esq., C.B., LL.D., Master of the Supreme Court of Judicature, Royal Courts of Justice, London, W.C. (Editor).

Edward Manson, Esq., 8, Old Square, Lincoln's Inn, London, W.C. (Secretary).

4. I shall be glad to learn in due course what measures your Ministers would be prepared to adopt in order to meet the views of the Society of Comparative Legislation.

I have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your most obedient humble Servant,

Enclosure to Circular, dated 21st August 1902.

SOCIETY OF COMPARATIVE LEGISLATION.

Suggestions for extending the Society in the Colonies.

The aim of the Society is to promote a systematic interchange of ideas and information between all parts of the Empire on subjects interesting to lawyers, jurists and statesmen.

We think this object could best be secured—

1. By forming branches of the Society in the different parts of the Empire, and we would suggest that the most effective way of doing this would be for the Colonial Office to invite the Attorney Generals of the various Colonies to form local Committees on the model of the Executive Committee of the Home Society.

2. The Committee so formed would put itself in communication with the Law Societies and Local Bars, and would ask their co-operation in carrying on the work of the Society. Any subscriptions might, it is suggested, be divided between the Home Society and the Local Branch.

3. Every branch Society would make a quarterly report to the Home Society of all matters of interest to the Society, such as pending Bills in Parliament, Acts passed, important decisions of the Courts, meetings, etc., and what was of permanent interest in such report would be embodied in the Journal of the Society, published quarterly, which would thus reflect the legal ideas and transactions of all parts of the Empire.

4. Each branch would forward to the Home Society a complete set of the Statutes of the Colony which would be housed by the Home Society, and would form the nucleus of a legal Library for the Empire.

5. The Home Society, being in constant correspondence with foreign jurists, would be a medium by which the Law Officers in the Colonies could obtain information as to the Law in foreign countries..

6. The executives of the Local Branches would meet monthly.

7. There would be periodical Conferences, at intervals of three years, between the different branches of the Society.

ADDRESS TO THE COLONIAL PREMIERS.

The following is a copy of an address which has been presented, with the approval of the Executive Committee of the Society, to the Colonial Premiers and others, and which may, it is hoped, lead to the Society increasing its sphere of usefulness:—

THE SOCIETY OF COMPARATIVE LEGISLATION.

Address to the Members of the various Colonial Governments now in England.

On the occasion of the visit of the representatives of the various colonies of the Empire, at a time when the common interests of all parts of it are under consideration, the Society of Comparative Legislation submits the following facts and proposals in the belief that they may be deemed worthy of the attention of His Majesty's Government and of the Governments of the Colonies:—

1. The Society was established in 1894, mainly for the purpose of obtaining and diffusing a knowledge of the course of legislation in different countries, but more particularly in the several parts of His Majesty's dominions and in the United States of America.

2. In a large degree, owing to the friendly co-operation of various Government Departments in England, particularly the Colonial and Foreign Offices, and of the Colonial Government throughout the Empire, the Society has, it is believed, been useful in furthering the object for which it was formed.

3. To name only one thing accomplished: For the first time, owing to the labours of the Society, each member or part of the Empire may now easily ascertain the legislative work and methods of all other parts. The many Statute Books of the Empire have, by means of annual summaries, digests, and indices published by the Society, been made accessible as they never were before. The Society is endeavouring to accomplish a similar work for the legislation of the chief countries of Europe.

4. Recognising the value of the work which the Society has already carried out and believing it may be made still more useful, especially to the interests of commerce, the Board of Trade has promised to contribute a sum to the funds of the Society; and it is hoped that the journal of the Society will prove a useful medium of communication as to legal information of interest to men of business throughout the Empire.

5. A further development of the work of the Society is believed to be both practicable and opportune. The Government at home and the Colonial Governments might, it is conceived, without incurring any responsibility, direct or indirect, for the action of the Society, and without trenching on the provinces of their official advisers, further aid the Society in performing still more important work.

6. Following the example of the State of New York, which in 1890 passed a Law for the appointment of Commissioners to promote uniformity of legislation in the United States, most of the States of the American Union have appointed Commissions for the promotion of such unity, conventions and conferences attended by such Commissioners have been held; and it is believed that progress has thus been made towards the end in view.

7. In connection with the ministry of Justice in France there exists a Comité de Législation Etrangére which does useful work in regard to legislation, more especially by putting at the service of the Government information as to measures of a similar character in other countries. A similar service is rendered by the Societé de Législation Comparée.

8. The Society might, it is suggested, be made the nucleus of an organisation performing work akin to that of these bodies which two countries, recognising the need of unity in legislation and the desirableness of profiting by the experience of other countries, have created. The Society might become something more - it might become, in a sense, a legal consultative Council of the Empire.

9. Without endeavouring to forecast all possible directions of activity, it may be suggested that—

(a) The Society may form one or more standing committees for the collection and interchange of information in regard to legislation between different parts of the Empire, the United States of America, and other foreign countries

(b) It might aid in assimilating and codifying large parts of the laws of the Empire, in realising, so far as is practicable and desirable, its legal unity, and in forming a Rechtsverein.

(c) It might help to codify, so far as is practicable, the commercial law of the Empire—to give it that which is possessed by France, Germany, Italy, Holland, and, indeed, by most of the chief States of the world, including some of them with commercial interests far inferior to ours, and to carry out a work which has been more than once declared to be expedient by the United Chambers of Commerce of the Empire.

(d) It might give useful assistance in regard to such questions as naturalisation, legal education, enforcement of judgments of Colonial Courts, security for costs of British subjects not resident in the United Kingdom, and many questions of private international law.

(e) It might confer and advise as to the form and methods of legislation in the United Kingdom, India and the Colonies

(f) It might answer enquiries, or conduct investigations or obtain reports from competent authorities, as to foreign legislation upon questions which occupy the attention of the Imperial Parliament or of Colonial legislatures.

(g) Lastly, it might represent the scientific spirit, the movement towards unity, in law never so much needed as in these days, when no one Parliament can without loss to itself afford to ignore the legislative experiments and experience of others.

10. To accomplish no small part of all this only a trifling expenditure is necessary So far the work of the Society has been done gratuitously, and there is no intention to change this policy for the additional work here proposed Probably a contribution of not exceeding £50 to £60 a year from each Colony would suffice to meet normal expenditure. What is mainly required is organisation, co-operation, and recognition of the desirableness of the ends which the Society has chiefly in view.

11. It is tentatively suggested that a certain proportion of members of the General Council of the Society should be nominated as follows:—

In the United Kingdom by—

The Lord Chancellor of Great Britain;
The Lord Chief Justice of England;
The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs;
The Secretary of State for the Colonies;
The Law Officers of the Crown;
The Lord Chancellor of Ireland;
The Lord Chief Justice of Ireland;
The Law Officers of Ireland;
The Lord President of the Court of Session of Scotland;
The Lord Justice Clerk of Scotland;
The Law Officers of Scotland.

In each of the Colonies by—

The Premier;
The Chief Justice;
The Law Officers.

In India by—

The Viceroy and his Council.

12. With some such organisation as is here suggested—and it is needless to say that modifications of these proposals are contemplated, and that the details of organisation would require much consideration before any scheme was finally adopted—there would exist all over the Empire local legal councils, together with an Imperial Legal Council, all of them entirely unofficial, the executive Governments at home and in the Colonies being of course in no way bound by, or responsible for the opinions or action either of the Imperial or of the local councils, each council acting independently, if desirable, and not responsible for the action of other councils; but from time to time all conferring and co-operating their discussions being fruitful and instructive, their joint representations possessing great moral weight

13. It is conceived that such a scheme, even if very imperfectly realised, would form an important link in the unity of the Empire

14. A minor matter may be mentioned The Society might, it is conceived, also aid in forming what is much needed—a central library containing complete sets of the Statutes and Ordinances of all legislative bodies within the Empire.

15. Such a library, which does not, it is believed, at present exist, would be of great importance and value, not only to lawyers, but to persons concerned with administration or engaged in business. The absence of such a library and the impossibility of procuring without much delay accurate information as to the Statute law of the Empire are serious anomalies.

16. If each of the Colonies supplied a complete set of its own Statutes, the Society would probably find means of housing them in a building which would be conveniently situated, and where they would be readily consulted.

17. The Society would venture to request the various members of all Colonial Governments now in this country to take into consideration the above facts and suggestions, and in the event of their approving generally of the objects in view to adopt such measures as they deem best fitted to further such objects. The Executive Committee of the Society will be pleased to render any practical aid in their power.

The 25th February 1903.

No. 1096-S. R.—In the Resolution in this Department, No. 1445, dated the 21st March 1887, the Governor General in Council was pleased to direct that agreements between Masters of Ships and lascars or other native seamen should be in the form appended to that Resolution. The form then prescribed has been modified, from time to time, by the orders* noted in the margin, and in view of the modification sanctioned by the Resolution of the 1st August last, the Secretary of State for India has now suggested the inclusion in the form of agreement of an additional clause to insure the provision of warm clothing and the proper heating of the forecastles of ships which carry lascars on voyages to ports on the east coast of America between 38 and 43 degrees north latitude. It is also observed that the English Merchant Shipping Acts of 1854 and 1855 referred to in the form now in use have been repealed.

2. Ordered that the Resolution and form of agreement be published in Gazette of India for general information.

REGULATIONS FOR MAINTAINING DISCIPLINE.

SANCTIONED BY GOVERNMENT IN PURSUANCE OF SECTION 27 (g) OF THE INDIAN MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT V OF 1883.

These Regulations are distinct from, and in addition to, those contained in the Act, and are sanctioned, but not universally required by law. All or any of them may be adopted by agreement between a Master and his crew, and thereupon the offences specified in such of them as are so adopted will be legally punishable by the appropriate fines or punishments.

These regulations are all numbered, and the numbers of such of them as are adopted must be inserted in the space left for that purpose in the agreement, page 1, and the following copy of these regulations must be made to correspond with the agreement by erasing such of the regulations as are not adopted. If the agreement is made before the Superintendent of a Mercantile Marine Office, his signature or initials must be placed opposite such of the regulations as are adopted.

For the purpose of legally enforcing any of the following penalties, the same steps must be adopted as in the case of other offences punishable under the Act, that is to say, a statement of the offence must, immediately after its commission, be entered in the official log book by the direction of the Master, and must, at the same time, be attested to be true by the signatures of the Master and the Mate, or one of the crew; and a copy of such entry must be furnished, or the same must be read over, to the offender, before the ship reaches any port or departs from the port at which she is; and an entry that the same has been so furnished or read over, and of the reply, if any, of the offender, must be made and signed in the same manner as the entry of the offence. These entries must, upon discharge of the offender, be shown to the Superintendent of a Mercantile Marine Office before whom the offender is discharged; and if he is satisfied that the offence is proved, and that the entries have been properly made, the fine must be deducted from the offender's wages and paid over to the Superintendent.

If, in consequence of subsequent good conduct, the Master thinks fit to remit or reduce any fine upon any member of his crew which has been entered in the official log, and signifies the same to the Superintendent, the fine shall be remitted or reduced accordingly. If wages are contracted for by the voyage or by share, amount of the fines is to be ascertained in the manner in which the amount of forfeiture is ascertained in similar cases under section 91 of Act I of 1859.

LAWS REGULATING THE TRANSFER OF LASCARS FROM ONE SHIP TO ANOTHER.

Section 29 of Act V of 1883.

1. Whenever it is agreed that the service of any lascar or other native seaman shall end at any port not in British India, the agreement shall, in addition to the particulars specified in section twenty-seven, contain a stipulation that fit employment shall be provided for him on board some other ship bound to the port at which he was shipped or such other port in British India as may be agreed on, or that a passage shall be provided for him to some port in British India free of charge or on such other terms as may be agreed on.

2. Every such stipulation shall be signed by the owner of the ship or by the Master on his behalf.

3. In this section the word "seaman" shall include also any native of British India carried to sea from any port in British India as one of the crew of a ship.

Section 125 of the English Merchant Shipping Act of 1894.

Agreements with lascars.

125—(1). The master or owner of any ship or his agent may enter into an agreement with a lascar or any native of India, binding him to proceed either as a seaman or as a passenger:—

Engagement of seamen.

(a) to any port in the United Kingdom, and there to enter into a further agreement to serve as a seaman in any ship which may happen to be there, and to be bound to any port in British India; or

(b) to any port in the Australian Colonies, and there to enter into a further agreement to serve as a seaman in any ship which may happen to be there, and to be bound to the United Kingdom or to any other part of Her Majesty's dominions.

(2) The original agreement shall be made in such form and contain such provisions, and be executed in such manner and contain such conditions for securing the return of the lascar or native to his own country and for other purposes, as the Governor-General of India in Council or the Governor in Council of any Indian Presidency in which the agreement is made may direct.

(3) Where any lascar or native bound by the original agreement is, on arriving in the United Kingdom or one of the said colonies as the case may be, required to enter into such further agreement as aforesaid, some officer appointed for the purpose in the United Kingdom by a Secretary of State in Council of India, or in any such colony by the Governor of the colony, may, on the payment of such fee not exceeding ten shillings, as a Secretary of State in Council of India or the Governor may direct, certify,—

(a) that the further agreement is a proper agreement in all respects for the lascar or native to make, and is in accordance with the original agreement; and

(b) that the ship to which the further agreement relates is in all respects a proper ship for the lascar or native to serve in and also, where the ship is in one of the said Australian colonies, that it is properly supplied with provisions; and

(c) that there is not, in his opinion, any objection to the full performance of the original agreement;

and thereupon the lascar or native shall be deemed to be engaged under the further agreement and to be for all purposes one of the crew of the ship to which it relates, and the lascar or native shall, notwithstanding a refusal to enter into the further agreement, be liable to the same consequences and be dealt with in all respects in the same manner, as if he had voluntarily entered into the same.

(4) The master of every ship arriving at a port in the United Kingdom, which has or during any part of her voyage has had on board a lascar or any native of India either as one of her crew or otherwise shall exhibit to the officer of customs, or to such person as the Board of Trade may authorise in that behalf, a statement containing a list and description of all lascars or natives of India, who are, or have been, so on board, and an account of, what has become of any lascar or native of India who at any time during the voyage has been, but is not then on board, and the ship shall not be cleared inwards, until the statement is exhibited, and if the master fails to exhibit such statement he and the owner of the ship shall be liable jointly and severally to a fine not exceeding ten pounds for every lascar or native of India in respect of whom the failure takes place.

(5) Nothing in this section shall affect any provisions which are unrepealed of the Act of the fourth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, chapter eighty, intituled "An Act to consolidate and amend the several laws now in force with respect to trade within the limits of the charter of the East India Company and to make further provision with respect to such trade."
